A Storybook Romance

East, West Meet, Wed in Pacifica

By LIN DAY

The girl who ruled as Miss San Mateo last year became the bride Saturday of a young German who fled to freedom two years ago from Communist East Berlin.

Frances Elizabeth Schumpf, 25, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schumpf, 635 Lockhaven drive, Pacifica, exchanged vows with Udo Hartmut Kuehn, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kuehn of Niedenwald, West Germany, in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Sharp Park.

The wedding climaxed a story-book romance that followed Udo's daring escape from the divided nation beyond the wall.

Some months before Frances entered the Miss Pacifica pageant in the Miss America contest two years ago, Udo and his mother followed his father in escaping to the West. A native of Dessau, East Germany, he and his mother slipped from a mail train that circled through West Berlin, and ran for their lives and freedom.

Udo, after working at a Volkswagen plant and for the National Cash Register company, came to this country. A mutual friend, seeking to help him learn the language, introduced him to Frances, whose grandfather had taught her German.

Frances is a practical-minded girl. She the county contest, being edged by Sandra Bradshaw, whose vocal talent had won the nod over the blonde beauty from Pacifica. Before many months, however, Sandra forfeited the title by marriage and Frances became San Mateo county's queen.

Meanwhile, Udo was dropping over to the house to take his English lessons.

"At first," she smiles, "he could only say on the phone a German phrase which means 'Do you have time?' At least that is one of the meanings."

"I taught him words; we attended a number of German movies with English translations and some American movies with German translations. I think he learned best from the movies. Now he speaks very well."

Within three months, Udo proposed, and asked her to go to Germany with him. She couldn't decide. Then, December 24, 1961, he produced a ring. She said "yes."

Frances is a practical-minded girl. She would not marry Udo, she told him, until he had a job, a home, and all of it furnished. She agreed to save toward it herself.

Frances worked in the Bank of America in San Francisco and put her earnings toward buying the furniture. Udo, a machinist, worked long hours and saved, and spent carefully. They bought a complete houseful of furniture in a year.

Then, some months ago, they saw a lovely house, while visiting Oregon friends. "It is on a mountainside, all by itself in a 10-acre grove of pine trees," she says, "about 45 minutes out of Portland, Ore., in a place called Corbett. There is only one neighbor within half a mile."

It is a large house, with three bedrooms, and is two stories high. Just three years old, it has a big garden of flowers in front for Frances to tend, and a workshop almost as big as a house behind it.

"See Mount Hood?"

"It is beautifully green there," she says, "and Udo says the view is the image of Bavaria. We can see Mount Hood."

Both love the outdoors, and rural life, although they both plan to work in Portland until they get established.

"I believe in letting the husband make the big decisions and backing him up in making him a good home," the bride smiles. "I know we will love our life."

IN LINDA MAR

Anza-Arguello District to Get Drain Facility

The Anza-Arguello district of Linda Mar in Pacifica, where some 60 homes were flooded during last September's heavy storm, will gain protection from future flooding by a new Anza Creek storm drainage facility to be built this spring.

City Engineer Al Roberts announced last week that enough signatures have been obtained from property owners to form an assessment district for the lower part of Crespi drive from Ladera street to the coast highway.

The $300,000 project will be advertised for bid in February. The city hopes work will begin in March.

Superior Judge Frank B. Blum said yesterday he will send Robert J. O'Brien, the state Division of Highways aide who was convicted of manslaughter in the accidental shooting of his wife, to the state prison medical center at Vacaville for psychiatric evaluation.

Judge Blum said he made the decision on the basis of a report from a county jail psychiatrist that O'Brien may suffer from a mental disorder.

O'Brien was given until 9:30 a.m. Monday to get his affairs in order. He is to report to the court at that time for the final commitment.

Judge Blum explained that O'Brien can be kept at Vacaville no longer than 90 days. He can be returned earlier than that, however. If the prison psychiatrists recommend treatment, Judge Blum said, he will probably commit him to a state hospital. If, on the other hand, O'Brien is found not to be suffering from a mental illness, he will be returned here for sentencing on the manslaughter conviction.

The 29-year-old defendant was found guilty of involuntary manslaughter in the fatal shooting of his estranged wife, Kathleen, outside her Daly City home August 19. Evidence was presented that O'Brien had gone to the home to pick up two of their children for target shooting on the beach.

As Mrs. O'Brien stood outside the car, O'Brien shifted the gun from one place to another and it discharged accidentally.

A $250,000 suit for damages has been filed against him on behalf of the four O'Brien children. The suit was filed by the mother of the dead woman.

Plans for New School Pushed

Plans for construction of the Franklin D. Roosevelt school were pushed Monday night at a meeting of the Jefferson Elementary School district board of trustees.

Gil Walquist was employed by the district as inspector for the school and two firms were hired to test soils and materials during the construction period.

Walquist will serve concurrently as inspector for a proposed overpass across Lake Merced boulevard for pupils.

District Attorney Keith Sorenson informed the board that construction of the San Francisco 49er star.

The former Daly City mayor has been with the 49ers for the past ten years. Dr. John J. Louzenhiser, orthopedic surgeon in San Francisco, was the operating physician.

Widening Set

Crespi drive will be widened and paved and curbs, gutters and sidewalks will be installed.

A storm drainage facility carrying the waters of Anza creek underground to the ocean will be installed and a pumping station will be built on San Pedro beach, opposite Crespi drive.

Pacifica Civil Engineering Assistant Barry Roth explained this week that in an average storm, water from Anza creek forms a lake south of Crespi drive, sending water into the streets of the Anza-Arguello district.

Roth says this happens several times a year. He said last September's flooding was caused by San Pedro creek overflowing — in addition to the Anza creek overflow.

If the Crespi drive drainage facility had been in existence, he said, it would have helped and possibly protected the homes.

The area has been zoned by the city for industrial and commercial development. It now has a supermarket, service station and elementary school under construction.

Main Route

The lower part of Crespi drive, now considered in poor condition, is nevertheless a main arterial route for Linda Mar commuters.

The assessment district plans also call for a street to be built north of Crespi that will eventually link with Fessler drive. This area is zoned for multiple and single-family dwellings.

Engineering studies for the Crespi drive-Anza creek project have been underway by the city of Pacifica for a year. Roth said the project will probably be completed in four to five months after construction starts.

An Operation For St. Clair

Councilman Robert St. Clair entered St. Mary's hospital Monday afternoon for surgery on an Achilles tendon.

The operation was expected to determine the football future of the San Francisco 49er star.

The former Daly City mayor has been with the 49ers for the past ten years. Dr. John J. Louzenhiser, orthopedic surgeon in San Francisco, was the operating physician.

Iva Newman Is Honored

Iva Newman, garden editor of The Post and The Times, was honored last week with a plaque presented by the California Nurserymen's association, Peninsula chapter, for the best garden page in 1962 for newspapers under 50,000 circulation.

Mrs. Newman, who lives at 2890 Summit drive, Hillsborough has been writing a column and garden page material for many years. She has gained a wide following throughout Northern California.

Last summer, she conducted a tour of the Orient and visited many of the picturesque gardens of Japan, the Philippines and Thailand.

At a nurserymen's dinner at Mariani's Restaurant in Santa Clara, she showed slides of the gardens.

Pacifica Baby Wins Sweepstakes

Dion Perry Patrick is the winner of the 1963 Post Baby Sweepstakes. He's the first baby born to Daly City, Colma or Pacifica parents.

The timely tot is the first son of Mr. and Mrs. Milford Patrick of 1588 Linda Mar boulevard, Pacifica.

He made his appearance at Kaiser hospital in San Francisco at 4:28 a.m. January 1.

"After four girls, this little fellow is pretty special," said Mrs. Patrick.

The couple's other children are Claire, 16; Tommie Kay, 14; Peggy Rue, 11 and Cindy Sue, 7.

By arriving first, Dion will earn her parents some $100 in merchandise awards from Westlake Jewelers, Richter's Interiors, Fern Warner Maternity Shop, The Jug Shop, Westlake Stationers, Westlake Hardware, Westlake Music, Casual Aire of Westlake, W. T. Grant company, Kiddie Korner and Jerry Bowers Chevron Station.

Daly City to Fete Clerk

Tomorrow is the deadline to buy tickets for a testimonial dinner January 17 for Mrs. Evelyn Mosman, city clerk of Daly City.

Mrs. Mosman is retiring after 18 years in the clerk's office. The dinner, sponsored by the city and the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce, will be held at Orenco's, 1 Lakeshore Plaza at 7 p.m.

Superior Court Judge Frank Blum will be the principal speaker and City Attorney Paul Hupf will serve as master of ceremonies.

Mayor Says Formal Bid Is Needed Declares City Won't Make First Move

Daly City Mayor Joseph Verducci has declared that the city will not consider annexation of Bayshore City, unless it is firmly asked to do so.

Even then, the mayor added, such a proposal would require careful study before any decision could be made.

Verducci commented after a spokesman for a Bayshore citizens' committee said that group wanted Daly City to annex Bayshore, rather than let a part of Bayshore be added to neighboring Brisbane.

The spokesman, Mrs. Christine Pack, appeared at a meeting of the San Mateo county boundary commission Thursday in Redwood City.

The commission is considering a request by Brisbane to annex a 15-square-mile industrial section of Bayshore City.

Verducci said Daly City will not initiate any proceedings to annex Bayshore.

"Any initiative had to come from the property-owners, or the people involved," he explained. "We don't want to, and we are not, land-grabbing."

The mayor said he sees both advantages and disadvantages to annexing Bayshore, and that only after a careful study could the city council make a decision on such a proposal.

One of the advantages, Verducci said, would be the acquisition of industrial property that would help Daly City's tax base.

"Then, too, Bayshore surrounds and is contiguous to the Crocker estate, which we really are interested in," he commented.

"On the other hand," Verducci added, "taking in Bayshore might require us to spread out services, such as police, too far. Also, and I'm talking off the top of my head here, residential development in Bayshore may not be up to our standards. I really don't know."

Brisbane Pushes Annex Proposal

Brisbane city councilmen moved ahead to annex a large slice of Bayshore City Monday, despite being served with a court order temporarily restraining them from proceeding with the annexation.

At the beginning of Monday's meeting, councilmen and City Manager Lanier S. Brady were served with the court order issued yesterday by Superior Judge Wayne Millington. As the meeting proceeded, however, the council (Please See Page 2, Column 2)

Council to Ponder Taxi Rate Boost

The City Council will hold a hearing Monday on a raise in rates by the Yellow Cab company of Daly City.

The cab company wants to boost its current fare from 50 cents for the first quarter-mile to 45 cents for the first fifth of a mile.

For each additional fifth of a mile, thereafter the company wants to charge ten cents. This will be an increase over the present rate of ten cents for every quarter mile.

The Yellow Cab company took over the Hilltop Cab company in 1958 and has maintained the present rate since then.

Another hearing, scheduled for the meeting Monday will be on a request to rezoned some property in the Crocker Estates tract.

The council also is expected to award a contract for paving seven streets.

Listed for improvements are these streets:

Pacifica Eyes Invitation to The Governor

Pacifica City Councilmen started their New Year calendar last week with several special meetings planned including one to which they will invite Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Regional parks and the possibility that Pacifica will get one will be among local agenda items at a meeting in Pacifica of state and county legislative representatives with the council.

Mayor George Mason suggested last week that Councilwoman Jean Fessler, who was Pacifica chairman for the governor's campaign, might persuade him to attend. No date was set for the meeting.

The councilmen decided to discuss an ordinance regulating billboards on the new coastal freeway, a controversial subject with the local chamber of commerce, at a special meeting January 22. The city's planning commission will meet with the council.

New Toastmasters Group In Pacifica Demonstrates

A proposed new toastmasters club in Pacifica held a demonstration meeting at the Sea Bowl Thursday night.

Joseph Weber, organizer of the club, acted as Toastmaster for approximately 40 persons.

James M. Shea, Area 5 Toastmasters governor, and Edward Dominon, assistant governor, spoke on the advantages of joining the group.

Also at the meeting were Edward Tomasello, president of the Daly City Toastmasters, and Howard Hoops, president of an existing Toastmasters club in Pacifica. If the new Pacifica group is successful in organizing, it will be the fifth group in San Mateo county. The other clubs are in Daly City, Pacifica, San Mateo and Burlingame.

The new group will meet Thursday evenings at the Sea Bowl. The existing club meets in the mornings.

Speaking at the meeting were Hoops, Daniel Barerra, and Phillip Bonner, all presidents or former presidents of Toastmaster clubs in the area.

Center Sets Grand Opening

Barion Development company will hold the grand opening of their new 56,000 square foot shopping center in Daly City, at St. Francis boulevard and Southgate avenue at 10 a.m. next Wednesday.

Mayor Joe Verducci will preside, and many local dignitaries will attend.

The center was designed by Wurster, Bernardi & Emmons and built by MacDonald-Young & Nelson. All but three of the stores are leased, and nearly all tenants are open for business.

Principal tenants are Safeway and Ben Franklin, with a full range of service stores.

Tavern Zone Permit Plea To Be Aired

Whether the Vagabond Club tavern should become a permanent fixture on scenic Pedro Point will be decided tonight at a meeting of the Pacifica city council.

Several Pedro Point residents who have appeared before the city's planning commission to protest the tavern owners' application for new zoning are expected to attend the meeting.

The club owners, Lawrence C. Gladys M. and James H. Kennedy, have asked the city to grant a commercial recreation zoning so they can add a restaurant.

The tavern now has a non-conforming status on property zoned only for residential development. The city gave the tavern owners a five-year use permit that still has three years to go. Pedro Point residents said they expected the tavern would close at that time.

Plans for New School Pushed

The condemnation was accomplished by mutual agreement with the city of San Francisco, which owned the property.

The board voted to consolidate a trustee election April 16, with voting on a county $35-million highway bond issue.

The county Board of Supervisors requested the consolidation and will assume an equal share of the cost along with the elementary district, Jefferson Union High school district, and Junior College school district and the County School Board of Trustees.

Dr. David Shapiro was appointed to represent the district as Deputy County Superintendent of schools in connection with the election in April.

Superintendent Richard Foster reported on several studies in progress in many of the schools.

Brisbane to Push Annex

(Continued from Page 1) passed a resolution of intention to annex a large portion of Bay lands east of the city and a strip of land, including shops of the Southern Pacific company in Bayshore City, running north to San Francisco city and county limits. The resolution sets up a public hearing on the controversial annexation, which would double Brisbane's size and assessed valuation, for 8 p.m., February 11.

Whether the council's action in adopting the resolution after receiving the court order will place city officials in contempt of court was not made immediately clear. It was pointed out, however, that the public hearing is scheduled after a court hearing, set by Judge Millington for 10 a.m. Monday in the courtroom of Judge Frank W. Rose.

A delegation of some 30 Bayshore City residents appeared before the council last night and asked about the Brisbane tax rate. Mayor John Turner pointed out that because various special assessment districts exist in both parts of Brisbane and Bayshore City no clear answers as to what Bayshore City's tax rate would be if it annexed to Brisbane can immediately be given.

Mayor Turner said it is up to Bayshore City residents alone whether they want to annex to Brisbane or Daly City, but if they are interested in annexing to Brisbane, city officials will give them all the help they can.

One of the opponents of Brisbane's annexation plans, Mrs. Kenneth Pack, who heads a Bayshore City Citizens committee, told Brisbane councilmen if they had approached her first about the annexation before acting on it she might have felt differently than she now does.

Another Bayshore City resident, Fred Simmons, asked Brisbane officials what they could offer Bayshore City residents if Bayshore City was annexed.

Bayshore City residents will hold a mass meeting this evening at 7 o'clock in the Sanitary hall at 2908 Geneva avenue. Bayshore Fire Chief Harry Ritzmann reportedly has 1178 signatures on petitions requesting annexation to Daly City.

Women's Board Slates Meeting

The board of directors of the Sisterhood of Congregation B'nai Israel will conduct its first meeting of 1963 at 8:30 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Ruth Hoffman, 759 Skyline drive, Daly City. The Sisterhood is planning a rummage sale. Members with usable clothing are asked to call Mrs. Gary Kroner at PL 5-8926 or Mrs. Dave Hoffman at WY 2-2821.

Line Won't Disappear, Board Says

The North San Mateo county Sanitation board was assured Monday that its proposed submarine outfall line wouldn't provide a sequel to the sewage line that strayed at Half Moon Bay.

The district is building an ocean outfall extension similar to the sewage facility that was lost in Half Moon Bay during a storm last October.

The Half Moon Bay sanitation officials have used divers and electronic equipment to hunt for the line but it has not been found yet. Meanwhile, sewage is backing up to the treatment plant. (See page 11 for Half Moon Bay story.)

Engineer C. L. White told the North county board that the method of anchorage of the proposed line at Thornton Beach is "far superior" to that of the Half Moon Bay line.

Half Moon Bay spent only $68,000 on the 1,500-foot outfall. The Thornton Beach line will cost approximately $325,000 and will extend 2,500 feet into the ocean.

Daly City and the North San Mateo county Sanitation district will share the cost of replacing a pipe line that broke down in the Crocker tract last month.

The cost-sharing formula was decided at the Sanitation district meeting Monday after a conference last week between City Engineer William Chapman and White.

The city and district will share equally the cost of cutting and repairing pavement, installing manholes, trenching and laying pipe.

The cost of the pipe for the combination storm and sanitary system will be shared proportionately. The district will pay a share equivalent to the cost of an eight-inch pipe, although a 15-inch pipe will be installed. The city will pay the difference.

The district authorized its technical personnel to proceed with the installation of a manhole and two T-joints in the Westborough subdivision.

The installation, costing $1,000 to $1,500 is needed to insure flow in a main sewage line in the area.

The system was built to accommodate future expansion. Usage of the system at the present time, however, is too slight for it to work properly, White explained.

As a result, the line becomes clogged and emits a gas.

The Westborough developers will be billed for the installation.

Surety Received

The board received the corporate and personal surety of Henry Doelger on the eventual dedication or possible relocation of a third pumping station in the Westview Terrace subdivision.

The sanitation district released a $25,000 escrow deposit by his company in lieu of the personal surety.

The Doelger firm turned the sewage system facilities in the Westview area over to the sanitation district last month.

One pumping station, however, sits on the Pacifica city boundary line. If a proposed land swap between Daly City and Pacifica takes place, the station will have to be relocated.

Lynch Heads Pacifica GOP

New officers of the Pacifica Republican assembly were installed Friday night at the Valle-Mar school.

Alfred Lynch, 752 Noriega way, Pacifica, became president, succeeding Willard Peterson, 640 Loma Vista terrace, Pacifica.

Attorney Amos Bechtold, chairman of the San Mateo county central committee, spoke on the Republican organization in California, the basic philosophy of the party and methods of strengthening the party at county level.

Also taking office at the meeting were Jack Gobel, vice president; Mrs. Emory Lebonville, secretary, and Orin Nevins, treasurer.

Lynch was elected delegate to the Republican state central committee convention at Disneyland in February.

Art Museum, Laguna Salada Join Forces

By Lois McNally

AN UNIQUE program of teaching gifted children about art has been completed in Laguna Salada elementary schools by the San Francisco Museum of Art. Pacifica was the only school district in the Bay Area to have such a program conducted by the institution.

The museum's education department, which offers art appreciation teaching help to all elementary schools worked last fall with a group of 100 Pacifica youngsters with high IQ's.

Meetings were held regularly over three months to raise the children's understanding of art.

The Pacifica youngsters came from the Laguna Salada District's opportunity classes. These classes are held for one hour a day in the district's schools to offer enrichment programs for pupils with high IQ's.

DR. LUCILLE FOSTER, assistant superintendent in charge of instruction, said the talented children had been receiving added instruction in science, mathematics and foreign languages.

The gifted children came from various schools in the district. They met Fridays at Sharp Park school for a series of eight lectures and discussions with museum personnel. The children also were taken twice to the San Francisco museum to study art at first hand.

The youngsters' teachers also attended the museum's lectures so they could follow through on discussions in the daily opportunity classes.

Museum instructors also met twice with the teachers alone to help them develop their own art appreciation.

Heading the museum's education staff was Judith Boles who also taught in the Pacifica classes. The museum's education department is supported by a grant from the Rosenberg foundation.

Pacifica Hires Crossing Guard For Intersection

Laguna Salada school board trustees were told last night that an adult traffic guard has been employed by the city of Pacifica and will patrol the Crespi drive and Peralta road intersection.

Residents of the area who have children attending Pedro Valley school have made several complaints this fall to the school board and the city. They have charged that the crossing was inadequately guarded and was hazardous because of heavy traffic on Crespi.

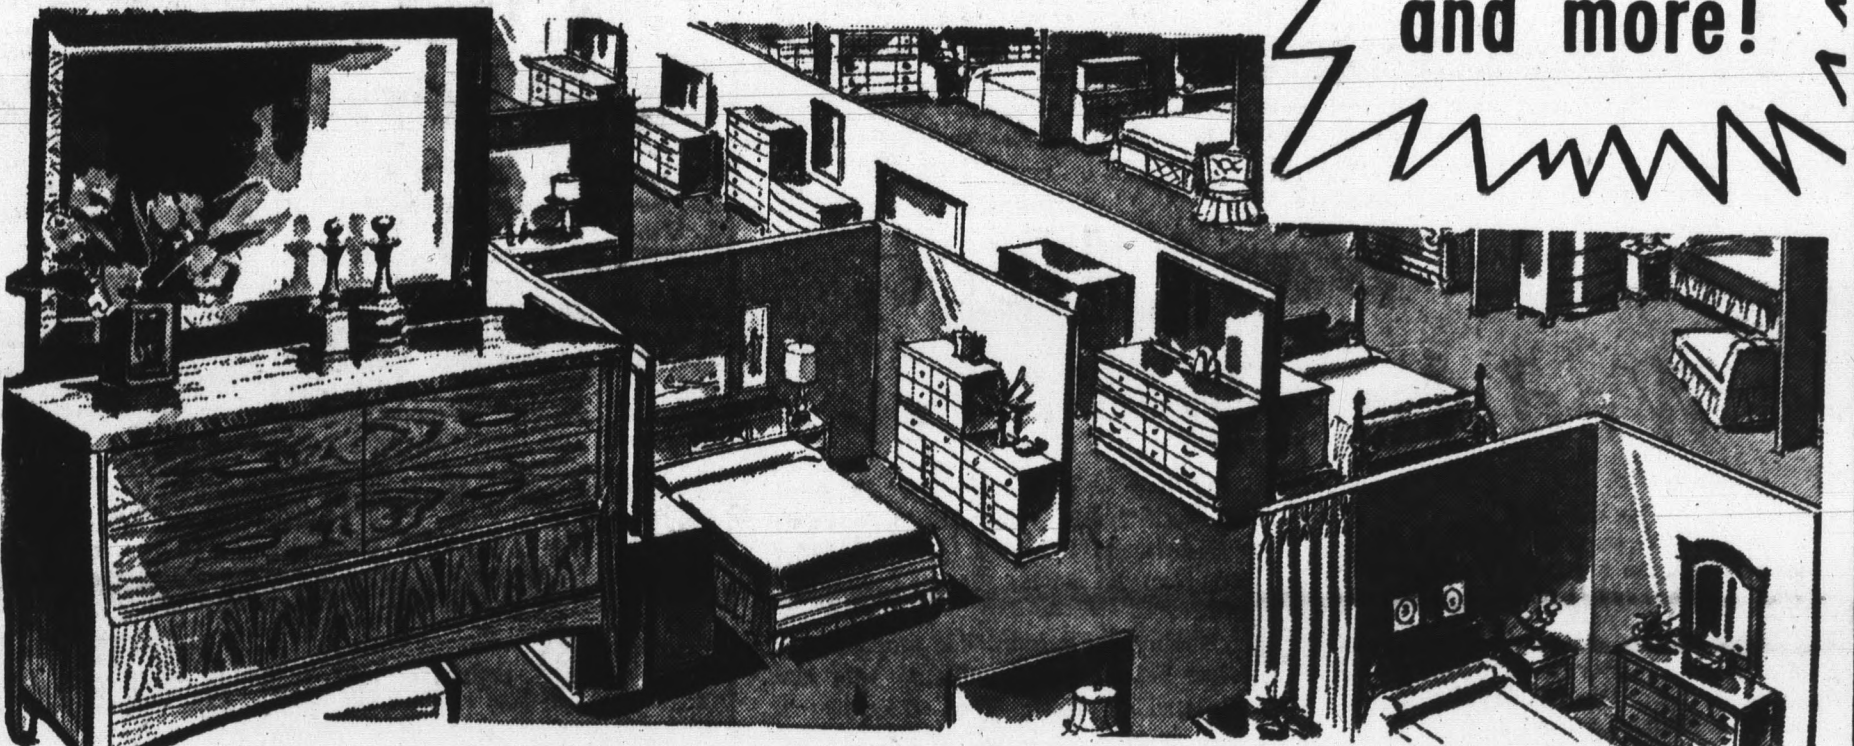

The trustees were told that the adult guard will begin duty when Ortega school opens.

At that time, only small children in kindergarten through grade four will be at Pedro Valley school.

Honesty Pays

The son of a Daly City realtor has been rewarded for his honesty.

Paul Anderson, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Anderson, 2415 Ardee lane, Westborough, received a $10 reward and congratulatory messages for returning a wallet containing over $200 to a San Rafael woman.

The youth, whose parents manage Wooster Realty, 131 School street, found the wallet in a telephone booth in a large San Rafael department store. He gave the wallet, belonging to Mrs. Marion Stanley, San Rafael, to the store manager.

Anderson attends the San Rafael Military Academy. He was commended by his officers and by Mrs. Stanley.

Lions Gain 12 Members

One of the region's oldest civic groups, the Daly City-Colma Lions club, has added a dozen new members to its roster.

The club was organized in 1928.

New members are:

Hal Gilmore, manager of the Daly City branch of the Morris Plan; James N. Harrah, editor and publisher of The Record and Westlake Times; Robert M. Cluff, Home Mutual Savings and Loan association; William Chapman, Daly City Engineer and Warren Knapp, Harvey Motors.

Kevin McDonald, Mercy Ambulance Service; William B. Henrich, Allred Realty company; Clark Kerns, Shell Service; George Makrus, Safeway Stores; Walter Martenson, Flying A Service; Joseph Mottola, Portrait Studios and Jack Pardella, Flying A Service.

The president of the club is H. Z. Weibel. Richard L. McClain and Rino Ceccato are co-chairmen of the membership committee.

Members meet each Wednesday noon at Toto's Pizzeria, 1913 Junipero Serra boulevard, Daly City.

K. O. Polio Makeups Ends

Make-up clinics for the first two immunizations in the K.O. Polio program have been completed, according to Dr. R. E. Gobar, co-ordinator for the program in Daly City.

Persons who missed the clinics immunizations are urged to see their own physicians, the doctor said.

A meeting was to be held last night with officials of the K. O. Polio program to determine the time when the Type III immunization will be given.

Pacifica Day Program Held

Forty Pacifica civic leaders attended "Pacifica Day" ceremonies at the Army's Nike base on Sharp Park road. Host at a luncheon and tour of the facilities was base commander Roger L. Harris.

The visitors saw a demonstration by the Nike sentry dogs of how they are trained to handle intruders. The Pacificans also witnessed a mock air alert in which missiles were raised to firing position.

Competition For Santa

Daly City teenagers have proved that the Christmas spirit isn't the exclusive property of the old man in the red suit.

The Hi-Fi Teen club danced to the tune of $45 December 19. The proceeds of the dance in "Santa's Shangri-La" in the War Memorial building were used to buy turkeys and toys for needy families in "Operation Santa Claus."

In another incident, two anonymous teenagers dropped in at Firehouse 5 and donated their transistor radios to the campaign.

Memberships Are Open in Toastmasters

A limited number of memberships are available in the Daly City Toastmasters' club, Edward Tomasello, president announced today.

Tomasello said men 21 years of age or older who are interested in public speaking are invited to visit club meetings Thursdays at 7 a.m. at the Westlake Library, 275 Southgate avenue.

In addition to speech training, Tomasello said, the Daly City Toastmasters' club provides experience in the conduct of meetings, helps members improve their grammar and provides opportunities for speaking before various community groups and organizations.

William Tucker won last week's best speaker award for his talk on the holiday traffic carnage. Charles Barber acted as toastmaster of the day and conducted the program.

The Daly City Toastmasters' club was chartered in May of 1962 and is a member of Toastmasters' International.

DEATHS

ROSS T. DWYER

Funeral services will be held today at Our Lady of Mercy church for Ross T. Dwyer, 70, 100 Bel Mar avenue, Daly City, who died Sunday.

The lifetime California resident was a retired employee of MacKay Radio company, San Francisco.

Survivors include his wife, Adelaide; his son, Lt. Col. Ross T. Dwyer Junior and his grandson, Ross T. Dwyer III.

A rosary was held last night at the 19th avenue branch of the N. Gray Funeral home, San Francisco.

LORRAINE CATHERINE WENZ

Lorraine Catherine Wenz, born last November 4, whose family resides at 244 Citrus avenue, Daly City, died Sunday at San Mateo County General hospital after an illness.

Survivors include her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wenz, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Nunes of Daly City. Funeral services were held Friday at Lasswell chapel, Daly City. Interment was in Cypress Lawn Memorial park, Colma.

Thief Steals Television Set

A 23-inch television set was reported stolen from the home of Sandra Copin, 969 Skyline drive, between 5:30 and 9:15 p.m. The burglar entered the home by a rear garage window.

BOWLING

WESTLAKE BOWL
By JIM GREALISH
SEA BOWL
By MARIE SEMLER

THERE WILL be plenty of traffic around Westlake Bowl this weekend as the News-Call Bulletin finals take place at 1 p.m. and 7 p.m. Saturday and the finals in the Bowlers Victory Legion kick off at noon Sunday.

The 915 All Star League once again produced the high scores of the week as Rich Knorr of the Air Flow Heating team shot a 218 game and 647 series while others who broke the 600 mark were Don Molteni and Sids Bier of Light Soda on Tap with 628 and 620 respectively.

Larry Oppenheim and Jim McGuirk of San Jose Bowling Supply with 619 and 601, Bob Johnson and Bill Baroni of Connett Insurance with 618 and 616, Lou Ramirez of Seven-Up with 611, and Hillie Narin of Downtown Center Box office with 604.

FOR THE SECOND consecutive week, Vince Ferrigno of Fishers Egg Noodles topped the Westlake Classic with a 592 series on a high game of 211.

Plans are under way for the next "Thursday Girl" Bridge Luncheon which will be held at the Bowl Thursday, February 7, at 1 p.m. Chairman Ann Johnson has announced that the February luncheon will feature bridge and gifts from Richters Interiors. Reservations may be made by calling PL 6-7370.

Chief of Police Roland Petrocchi was back on the beam Wednesday night as he posted a 219 game and 584 series to lead the Daly City Employees league. Arlene Keogh was the leading lady with a 190 game and 469 series.

Al Rasore of the Spreckels Russell team really found the range as he shot a big 225 game and 569 series to lead the Mayfair Strike League for the week.

SUNDAY at midnight marks the closing date for qualifying in the current Northern California Ladies' Team Handicap Tournament. With the top ten teams from Westlake being selected for the semi-finals, the girls are forming teams with an eye for getting into the top ten bracket, not necessarily the top spot. Teams of any five WIBC bowlers may shoot whenever lanes are available.

The Third Annual Westlake Handicap Doubles will start January 21 with over $2000 in guaranteed prizes plus many other cash prizes based on the number of entries.

Again, there will be the Optional Singles feature, whereby bowlers may use the first three of the four games for a special prize list. There will also be weekly prizes in this tournament, which is open to both men and women.

FIRST STOP DENVER

County Keglers Hit Pro Trail

San Mateo county is well represented in a Bay Area "task force" of bowling professionals who headed for the first leg of a lengthy tournament tour this week.

Heading the stars will be Les Barrett, Woodside Bowl pro; Ev Collins, who instructs at Burlingame Bowl and South San Francisco's Brentwood pin center, and Bill Hardwick, the Belmont phenom who grew up in bowling at Bel Mateo Bowl.

First stop on the greenback trail will be Denver for the Professional Bowlers association tourney January 9 through 12.

The motorcade also includes Bob Wild, Brentwood skipper who lives in San Bruno; teammates Jack Middleton and Joe Jacques of Richmond; San Jose's Dick Agee; Charles Wilkinson of Soledad and Richmond's rising youngster, Jerry Hale.

Following the Denver tourney, most shooters will head for the BPAA All-Star in Kansas City January 16 to January 26 before resuming tournament play among the PBA stars at Louisville, Ky., January 30 to February 2.

Other stops along the route which ends in Newark, N. J. May 14 — with finals to be televised each Saturday afternoon — are St. Louis, Oklahoma City, Dallas, Houston, Mobile, New Orleans, Birmingham, Kingsport, Tenn., Indianapolis, Pontiac, Mich., the ABC national tournament for Brentwood's team April 14-15; Akron, Buffalo for the Masters tournament April 20-24; Boston.

7th Grade Opens Play

The 10-team seventh grade Daly City basketball league opened play Saturday. BYA Aero Motors, BYA Matadors, MHR Chiefs, OLM Angels and the PAL Bears kept their records unblemished in the first week of play.

BYA Aero Motors took the Ben Franklin White Falcons, 14-9. Jim Feldman was high point man for Aero Motors with 6 points.

Larry Bray took over for the BYA Matadors as they won over the BYA Hotshots, 12-14. Bray was high with 8 points.

Most Holy Redeemer Chiefs in their first appearance took the measure of the New Piza Blues in a cliffhanger, 29-27.

The OLM Angels' Steve Green paced his team to a win over the OLPH Golds with an 18 point performance. Green hit eight field goals and two charities.

Fighting all the way, the PAL Wildcats went down before the PAL Bears, 31-25. The Wildcats kept the game close most of the way but faded in the fourth quarter before the scoring of Allen Olcese, Grady Proctor and Bobby Nolan.

Verducci Delegate At Session

Daly City Mayor Joseph Verducci left Monday to attend two meetings in Southern California in connection with his position as director of athletics at San Francisco State college.

Verducci attended the 57th annual National Collegiate association convention in Los Angeles from Monday through today.

Delegates that included many of the nation's collegiate coaches and athletic directors discussed problems ranging from the renewed feud between the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) and the NCAA-sponsored U. S. Track and Field federation to the free substitution rule.

From tomorrow through Sunday the mayor will be serving as a member of the National Football Rules committee when it meets at the Del Coronado hotel in Coronado.

According to Verducci, the committee discussion will include possible changes in equipment, particularly in reference to the head guard.

Verducci will return Monday in time to resume his duties as mayor. A council meeting is scheduled at 8 that night in the city hall.

Gators Keep Lead, Take 2nd in Row

The San Francisco State Gators made it two in a row to play atop the Far Western Conference standings by whipping the University of Nevada, 81-53 Saturday night.

Mike Carson and Brad Duggan led the way for the Gators by scoring 22 and 19 points, respectively.

The hustling Gators jumped off to a quick start and led the visiting Nevadans all the way.

The Wolfpack staged a mild rally late in the first half but couldn't catch the Gators, who hustled throughout the game.

The Gators led at halftime 42-28.

The Nevada team connected on only half of its free throw attempts. The visitors hit 10 of 21 tries.

San Francisco, however, scored 21 of its output via the charity line. The team missed only six.

Seals to Host Grid Winners

The champion football teams of the Daly City Recreation department's citywide football league will see the San Francisco Seals in action Sunday at the Cow Palace.

Attending will be the PAL Eagles, fifth grade league champions; PAL Vikings, sixth grade; PAL Tigers and PAL Rams, co-champions of the eighth grade. Players should contact their coaches for further information.

Arrangements for the boys to see the Seals free were made through the courtesy of the Seals management, Chief Roland Petrocchi, Daly City Police department, and Charles Vincent, director of recreation.

Recreation Cage Loops Open Play

Basketball action in leagues sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department got under way.

Here are the highlights:
In eighth grade league play, the New Piza Reds eked out a 30-28 win over the OLM Saints. Tony Smith of the Reds launched an eight-point scoring blitz late in the game to give the Reds the win.

The PAL Big Warriors rolled past the PAL Vultures, 49-29. Jeff Long was high man with 15. Teammate Reed Rosenberg tallied 14.

The PAL Lakers chalked up a 39-28 victory over the OLPH Allys. Telvis Jones' 18 points paced the victors.

In practice game action in the fifth grade league, the OLM Dons beat the PAL Jaguars, the Holy Angels Lions beat the OLPH Bumble Bees, 19-14 and the OLM Gals powered their way past the PAL Eagles, 28-21. Glen Phillips tallied 12 points for the Gals.

The Ben Franklin White Falcons got their season underway with a 19-6 win over the BYA Matadors.

The OLM Angels overwhelmed the New Piza Blues, 21-9 and the BYA Aero Motors nipped the PAL Wildcats, 11-10. In the most one-sided contest of the week, the PAL Bears buried the OLPH Golds, 50-6.

In the sixth grade league, Gary Ciadella took high point honors by posting 16 points in the PAL Vikings' win over the PAL Little Warriors, 30-17.

The OLPH Hilltoppers bowed to the PAL Jets, 20-12 as Ron Papes scored all but five of the Hilltoppers' points.

The Holy Angels Colts and the BYA Bender Roofing Cats staged a thriller, with the Colts eventually winning, 26-25. Abe Shaffer of the Cats was the game's high scorer with 13.

Bill Antraccoli led the OLM Hawks to victory over the Sherith Israel Knights by posting nine of his team's 24 points.

6th Grade Loop Play Marked by Close Contests

Play in the sixth grade Daly City recreation department basketball league was tight last week as all teams had to fight for wins.

The Sherith Israel Knights edged out the BYA Bender Roofing Cats in a close game for their first win. Moving out to a first quarter lead, the Knights went on to a 22-20 win. Alan Newman was high point man for the game with 10 points. David Belli, Abe Shaffer, Joel Carrara and Phil Littleman starred for the Cats.

The OLM Haks came from behind to squeak by the OLPH Hilltoppers, 30-25. Martin Cresalia and Joe Arne put the Hawks back in the game after the losers took an early lead. Cresalia contributed 10 points and Arne a big 13.

Gary Cardella took high point honors for his 15 points against the Holy Angels Colts in the sixth grade league. Cardella's team, PAL Vikings, won over the Colts by the same point total Cardella hit: Vikings 33, Holy Angels Colts 18.

Timmy Dillon of the Colts was overshadowed by Cardella's performance but he hit 12 points for his team.

City, Rotarians Ask for Donors

You aren't aware of your hand until your arm is severed.
You aren't aware of your heart until you have an attack.

"Most people don't realize the need for something until it affects them directly. It is the same way with blood," said Daly City Mayor Joseph Verducci, chairman of a Blood Bank Day drive in Daly City January 18.

"I personally felt the need years ago," said Verducci "when my father had cancer and needed blood right away." "If we were to have a disaster, what would happen if we didn't have blood stored?" the mayor asked. "It could be needed for ourselves, our family or our friends."

The city is co-sponsoring the blood drive with the Rotary Club of Daly City. The blood donated will be made available for the entire community.

The drive will be held from 3 to 7 p.m. at the Westlake school. "It will take only 15 minutes of one's time to contribute to this worthwhile project," Verducci stated.

Persons wishing to take advantage of this opportunity to give "the greatest of gifts" said Verducci, can write to Blood Bank Day, 75 Wellington avenue, Daly City, to make an appointment or call PL 5-0850, Ext. 23.

The Peninsula Memorial Blood bank is a non-profit organization established by the residents of San Mateo county to provide blood and plasma for sick patients in hospitals, for use in case of disaster and for the armed services in emergencies.

Persons donating blood will be given credits by the blood bank for use in any future emergency.

The donor can save it for himself, give it to a friend or provide that anyone in a club or organization or community may draw on it. The credits do not expire until the donor uses them.

Donors must be between the ages of 18 and 61, in good health and have normal temperature, hemoglobin count and blood pressure. Those between the ages of 18 and 21 must have written permission from their parents or guardians.

Prospective donors with this medical history will not be accepted: Infectious jaundice (hepatitis), tuberculosis, diabetes, recurrent malaria, syphilis, heart condition, any surgery within the past six months, a cold within the past two weeks, penicillin reaction within six months, less than three months between donations or any malignancies other than skin cancer.

Policeman Said Child Molester

San Francisco Policeman John F. Steffen, 32, who lives at 803 Beechwood drive, Broadmoor Village, was suspended from his job Friday and arrested for allegedly molesting a 5-year-old neighbor girl.

Steffen denied the charge. Booked at San Mateo county jail by Broadmoor Police Chief Ray Savage, Steffen was released after posting $1050 bail. He is to appear in Northern District Municipal Court at 9:30 a.m. January 16, for arraignment.

The patrolman is the father of four children and his wife is expecting a fifth.

The alleged offense supposedly took place December 21 while the officer was babysitting his own children and twin neighbor girls. The twins' mother later complained to Chief Savage, who signed the formal complaint against Steffen.

Louanne's Datebook

By Louanne Heath

EVEN THOUGH the fashion show, Grecian Fantasy, is still more than a month away, the planning and organizing is completed and the Guild Women of Holy Angels Catholic Church in Colma are totally absorbed in making sure their plans and ideas crystallize into bits and parts of the elaborate, overall pattern.

This past week, the exciting news was about the arrival of printed program; and these lovely programs are, most assuredly, worth becoming excited about!

According to publicity chairman Gloria Tricerri, the program chairman, Mrs. Leda Belloumini and Mrs. Guido Barnoli, contracted with a southern California artist, Mrs. Kenneth Burke, to design and hand craft a program cover that would be strikingly attractive and in keeping with the theme of the show.

What Mrs. Burke contrived for the event is unusual and very lovely. Working with gold foil, she has created a simple cover, the only ornamentation of which is a delicate Grecian style cameo of jet black.

AS DELIGHTFUL to the eye as the programs are, Mrs. Tricerri is most emphatic in her opinion that every part of the February 16 show at the Fairmont hotel in San Francisco will be equally pleasing to the audience. According to her, not only are the cloths all to be modeled in the lovely, new, spring styles and colors, but the attire of the hostesses also will be quite a conversation piece. The ladies will greet the guests in classically graceful Grecian tunics.

Three prizes for the afternoon are guaranteed to thrill the lucky ladies who win them. The first prize, purchased by the women of the group with S and H Green Stamps, will be a complete home movie outfit. Second prize is a crystal wine decanter set that was donated by the San Martin Winery and the third prize will be a $50 merchandise order from Livingston Bros.

Though you will have to wait until the middle of February for the fashion show itself, the Grecian Fantasy promotion committee has scheduled a pre-show Whist Party for January 17.

The Whist will be under the direction of Mrs. Louis De Salvatore and Mrs. Tullio Picchi. It will be held in the parish hall of Holy Angels Church and will begin at 12:30 p.m. The public is invited.

MRS. AND MRS. MATT KOUBA, of Skyline drive in Westlake celebrated the New Year by spending the weekend with relatives in Walnut Creek.

MRS. LENA RIZZA, of Lausanne avenue in Colma, has celebrated her 70th birthday with a party. Attending and helping to make the occasion a very festive one were a number of her friends and relatives.

NEIGHBORS and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Lynch of Oceanview drive in the Westlake area, will be saddened to learn that the family will soon be moving to Palo Alto.

Lynch has been employed by a Palo Alto firm for some months now and has spent many long hours commuting. The move will be more convenient for Lynch.

SPENDING the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Ron Anderson of Colma, were Anderson's parents from Seattle, Wash.

SEVENTEEN young misses from the Colma area were present Thursday when Brownie Troop 355 was invested.

The girls and their parents met at the Colma K-6 school for the ceremony.

Mrs. Pat Cassalunovo is the leader of the new troop. She is assisted by Mrs. Ruth Lapachet.

New Members' Bonus Program

The San Francisco Opera Guild will give immediate return to new members who are being recruited by personal contact during their current campaign.

Two Sunday evenings of cocktails and entertainment have been planned for January 27 and February 3, from 5 to 7 p.m. at the On-Broadway theatre. The program will be a shortened version of Die Fledermaus by Johann Strauss, in English, and will be performed by six professional singers of the Talent Bank that the guild supports.

The costumed production, set in the plush Victorian setting of San Francisco's newest and prettiest theatre, will be directed by Peggy Donovan, former head of the Opera Workshop at the University of California and now in a similar position at Stanford University.

The cast includes Greta Hardin, Corinne Swall, Edward Jameson, Orva Hoskinson, Robert Yakutis and Shapleigh Howell. The performances are open to the public.

The campaign will offer a cocktail theatre bonus certificate for each ten dollar guild membership fee (which is tax deductible). Every present member has been invited to attend simultaneous "preview" teas at members' homes throughout the Bay Area on January 10.

The Hillsborough home of Mrs. George Cameron will be the Peninsula setting. A musical program by Talent Bank artists at these affairs will acquaint members with Opera-On-Broadway plans.

These presentations of young professional artists in a commercial showcase are the culmination of the work of the Opera Guild's Talent Bank which Mrs. Alfred Craspey chairmans. Similar presentations have entertained in the East Bay, in conjunction with the Junior league of Oakland. Other guild activities to serve opera are the annual Fol de Rol ball, whose profits help to provide new sets, underwriting of four Opera-For-Student performances during the regular season, teas for Opera artists and Guild members and backstage tours.

Benefit performances of Opera-On-Broadway are available to community organizations. Inquiries should be made in writing to the San Francisco Opera Guild, Opera House, San Francisco.

ORT Chapter Plans Event

The Northern Peninsula chapter, Women's American ORT (Organization for Rehabilitation Through Training), will conduct its first meeting of the year at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Jack Elfant, 75 Midvale drive, Daly City.

The program will feature a discussion of social problems in daily living. Leading the discussion will be a representative from the Jewish Community Relations Council.

Information or transportation arrangements may be obtained by calling Mrs. Harry Weglin, 21 Escanero drive, South San Francisco at JU 3-5792.

COFFEE HOURS

Coffee hours for prospective new members of the San Francisco League of Women Voters will be held January 30 and 31. The first will be at the home of Mrs. Richard Pearce, 3580 Clay street at 10 a.m., January 30, and the second at 7:30 p.m., January 31 at the home of Mrs. Moses Grossman, 1001 Ulloa street.

GOOD GIFT

Good gift for a cook: A set of four covered onion-soup dishes plus a package of or your own recipe for French onion soup.

Fashion Carnival Scheduled

Plans are progressing on schedule for the evening fashion show "Carnival of Fashions" sponsored by Court St. Mary No. 1555, Catholic Daughters of America on February 7, according to Mrs. Charles Wettstein, grand regent.

The show will be held at Our Lady of Perpetual Help auditorium, 80 Wellington avenue, Daly City.

Co-chairman with Mrs. Wettstein is Mrs. Warren Steinbach. Clothes will be shown by "The Fashion," a women's apparel store in the Westlake Shopping center, and modeled by members of the court.

Following the first meeting of the new year last Thursday evening, a "Crazy Hat Parade" was held with first prize being awarded to Mrs. Warren Steinbach. She won with a hat that was a replica of the 1962 World's Fair Space Needle. It was designed by her father-in-law, R. F. Steinbach.

Second prize went to Mrs. Arthur Dikas and third to Mrs. Elmo Pucci.

The annual January whist will be held on Thursday evening, January 17 at 8:30 p.m. in the Our Lady of Perpetual Help auditorium.

The public is cordially invited to attend, said Mrs. Steinbach. Mmes. James O'Reilly and Arthur Dikas are chairmen of the evening.

HELP WANTED

Variety Of Jobs Offered

The variety of jobs on file at the Volunteer Bureau offices make it possible for most people with spare time and a desire to serve to find an opening.

Men and women are needed to visit the incapacitated and lonely in hospitals and homes for the aged; to do clerical work in welfare agencies; to staff the Traveler's aid booth at the airport; to do hospital work; and to work in recreation agencies.

A volunteer never takes a job from a paid worker. Persons may serve regularly each week (a few hours, half day, full day or several days) and may work on a short term "spot" basis.

Some agencies desire skilled help. Others require no previous experience and training is given by the agency involved.

Further information may be obtained from the Volunteer Bureau, 119 Primrose road, Burlingame. The bureau is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Volunteer Bureau is a project of the Assistance League of San Mateo county and shares in the United Fund.

P-TA Unit to Hear Davis

The Alta Loma school P-TA will meet tomorrow. A Scout troop will lead the salute to the flag. Featured will be the Mothersingers. A new film on a school tax increase to be voted on in March will be shown. Charles H. Davis, superintendent of the South San Francisco school district will answer questions after the film.

Refreshments will be served by the special events committee.

Olympia School Plans Special Evening Meet

Olympia School—3 Olympia school is holding a special evening meeting in its Parent-Enrichment program next Wednesday at 8 in the multi-purpose room.

The special meeting, open to all parents, has been scheduled for the benefit of fathers and working mothers.

The main speaker of the evening will be Dr. Vinton Stratton, assistant superintendent of schools, in charge of instruction for the Jefferson Elementary school district.

A panel discussion will be held with Mrs. Louine Bostwick, principal of the Olympia school, and Mrs. Foulia Lamp, third grade teacher. The program theme is "Individual Child in the Classroom."

Linda Mar Unit Of TOPS Meets

The San Francisco T.O.P.S. club held a joint installation of officers with a sister group in Linda Mar.

The new officers took their oaths together in a traditional candle ceremony.

A Christmas party, exchange of gifts and low calorie refreshments were enjoyed after the 5-8758, for information on time and place of the party.

Classes Scheduled

Ladies' Day With YMCA

A new concept in class scheduling has been announced by the North San Mateo county YWCA for a six weeks session starting today.

Called "Ladies Day with the YWCA," this is a program for homemakers.

Four separate and varied classes, which will share nursery service, will be held Wednesday mornings between 9:30 and noon at the War Memorial building in Daly City.

The hours are arranged so that women may choose one or two courses which suit their particular. Information and directions may be obtained at the Y office, 375 South Mayfair avenue.

A knitting class for everyone from beginners to experienced knitters who wish to experiment will be given from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m.

The teacher, Mrs. Shirley Steigewald, will give personal instruction to each member of the class. Fees include nursery service under expert supervision.

Instruction in bridge will be offered from 10:30 to noon. This class is for beginning and intermediate players and will prepare students for a YWCA bridge club that also meets at the War Memorial building Wednesday mornings.

The teacher is Pat Smith. This is a continuing class with room for new participants.

A new class in alterations and mending has been added to the "Ladies Day" schedule. Instruc-

Interior Designer To Speak

Lillian Kersnar, an interior designer and proprietor of the Lillian Kersnar Shop in San Francisco's Jackson Square, will give two programs this month for the Y-Wives of Westlake on interior decorating. Each will precede a question and answer period.

The first will be given Monday from 9:30 to 11 a.m. in the Westlake Bowl.

Last year, Miss Kersnar taught interior decorating in the adult education program at Westmoor High School. She presented ideas on color, balance and styles to individualize homes to fit family tastes and needs.

Miss Kersnar's second program will be given at the Westlake Bowl Monday, January 21.

YWCA Has New Class In Makeup

A new class in makeup and skin care will be offered by the North San Mateo county YWCA on six successive Wednesday evenings, starting tonight.

This course will be taught by San Francisco model and charm instructor Diane Darnell at the Westlake Bowl in the Westlake Shopping Center from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

The fee for six weeks is $7 and students may register at the first or second class.

Makeup and skin care will be a complete course, designed to show each woman how to look her best. The proper method of shaping eyebrow and lip line will be shown individually.

These techniques alone, according to Miss Darnell, when applied correctly can re-shape an entire face.

Each student will study color foundation, rouge and powder.

Eye makeup and instruction in the difference between makeup for day and evening will be included. Skin care will be explained according to individual skin types and problems will be analyzed and discussed.

Following this course, Miss Darnell will offer a sequel, "Social Graces, Speech and Visual Poise." These courses together, she said, will constitute virtually a complete charm course for the homemaker and employed girl.

Further details may be obtained from the Y office at 375 South Mayfair avenue.

Voter League Plans Session

The League of Women Voters of California will stage a state league day from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. January 22 at the Edgewater Inn, 455 Hegenberger road, Oakland.

Reservations for luncheon must be made by Tuesday at the league office, 465 Post street, San Francisco, or by calling YUKON 6-0480.

At the morning session, Mrs. R. Robert Coop, the league's state finance chairman, will discuss: "How to Pay for What You Get."

Mrs. Edward Nathan, state local current agenda chairman, will speak on "The Art of Selecting Local Items."

"A Report from Sacramento" will be given by Mrs. Peter White, state legislative chairman.

Eugene Lee, associate professor and assistant director, Institute of Governmental Studies, University of California, will speak during the afternoon session on "California Votes."

Dinner Termed A Success by P-TA President

A recent annual holiday dinner, sponsored by the Westmoor P-TA, was a financial as well as social success according to president Fred Adams.

Adams expressed his gratitude to the parents, students and teachers who attended.

The P-TA group plans to hold another meeting Thursday, January 17, at 8 p.m.

The program planned, according to Mrs. John Arnott, publicity chairman, will be on college opportunities. It is the second in a series of three which is aimed at helping parents and students prepare for an educational future.

Fashion Show Report Slated

Our Lady of Perpetual Help Mother's club will hold its monthly meeting in the school auditorium at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Plans for the new year will be formulated and reports on a forthcoming fashion show will be given. Chairman is Mrs. Lorraine Mignault.

The show theme will be "Gardens of Shalimar." Fashions will be presented Saturday, February 16, at Del Webb's Town House in San Francisco. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Madeline Drew or Mrs. Augusta Morgan.

By ANGELA KURTZMAN

The weather may not show it, but Spring is definitely on the way in. Evidence is seen in many of our local stores, and ladies fashions especially are displaying bright touches in exciting new Spring styles. So shivering though you may be, it's time to start thinking of balmy days and the accessories to go with them.

From THE FASHION comes big news in the form of brand new Helanca stretch pants... stylish, figure flattering and practical, too. The news is that they are now being shown in soft pastels of pink, yellow and blue... perfect for barbecues, picnics and entertaining at home. As a bonus these irresistible stretch pants are also machine washable... sizes 6 to 16... $16.98.

According to the fashion-wise over at LEED'S shoe store, bone is just the right color for shoes this Spring. As for news in shape—there has been a recent transition in the styling of women's shoes from the plain, basic look to silhouettes of scalloped and cut-out sides, showing more flair. Not only fashionable, but a great boon in comfort is the new pump with closed toe and open heel... ask about the "magic cling" which keeps the strap from slipping off your heel.

The menfolk, too, are included in this wonderful Spring preview. At the NEW ENGLAND SHOP see a fine selection of hand-finished Alpaca sweaters. These are snag-proof and come in a wide selection of rich and handsome colors. I'm sure your husband will get a kick out of the following innovation in men's suits... he can now style his new suit himself. Now at the NEW ENGLAND SHOP is a group of mohair suits in the continental tradition, but they are buttonless. The choice is up to the buyer as to whether he prefers his suit finished as a one, two, or three button model.

H. LIEBES has also joined in with the trend of thinking Spring, and with fairer skies in mind brings you adorable denim playwear in junior sizes of 5 to 15. You'll be delighted with the matching two-piece bathing suit, one-piece bathing suit and ever-stylish shift... all trimmed in perky red checked gingham.

MR. H LUGGAGE offers you a special purchase in fine, lightweight luggage. So if you're thinking of replacing your worn-out and disreputable looking suitcases, you'll be interested in seeing this handsome Samsonite... savings of one third.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

ON THE TRIP from my typewriter to the final printing of last week's column, something fell out—the sugar in the Ozark Pudding. The recipe calls for 1½ cups of sugar, which you beat with the eggs. It's a mighty good pudding and I'd hate for you to miss trying it because of an error.

CHEESE CAKE seems to be a favorite with many people, the only complaint being that it is served in such small pieces. Well this recipe makes a most delicious cake and is large enough for generous servings.

Mrs. Margaret Mitchie, 1481 Rosita road, Linda Mar, is the contributor of this recipe.

OSCAR'S CHEESE CAKE DELIGHT

Crust: 1½ cups fine graham cracker crumbs
¼ cup sugar
½ cup melted butter

Mix crumbs and sugar, stir in butter. Press into a 9x9x2 pan, covering bottom of pan with the crumb mixture.

Filling: 1½ lbs. cream cheese (6 small packages)
½ cup sugar
1 teas. vanilla
3 eggs, beaten
1 Tbsp. lemon juice

Beat together the cream cheese and sugar. Add the vanilla and whole beaten eggs. After beating thoroughly, add the lemon juice. Pour this filling into the graham cracker crust. Bake 20 minutes in 375 degree oven.

Topping: 1 Pt. sour cream
3 Tbsp. sugar
1 tsp. Vanilla

While the filling is baking, mix the sour cream, sugar and vanilla together. After the cake has baked the 20 minutes, remove it from the oven and spread sour cream mixture over the cake top. Return to oven and bake 5 to 10 min. or until the top begins to look dry. Remove from oven, cool and place in refrigerator overnight.

WHILE WE ARE thinking about cheese cakes, I have a request from a reader for a recipe for a particular kind of cheese cake. Mrs. Fran Anderson says she used to have this when she was a girl living in the Mission district of San Francisco. It came from a German bakery there.

She recalls that it had a crust, possible a sweet dough, that came up high around the edge of a round cake pan and the filling didn't have cream cheese or sour cream in it. Probably sieved cottage cheese, eggs and sugar for the top appeared to be much like a custard pie.

If one of you good cooks have this recipe nestled down in your file, won't you share it with us? I know Mrs. Anderson will be happy to get it and I'd like to try it too.

Delightful Dips

DIPS AND SPREADS — Quickest way to provide snacks for guests is with a quick-mix dip or spread. Shown here are four unusually good ones. One is a Russian spread with real mayonnaise and hard cooked egg, two are made with soup mixes and the fourth with peanut butter.

Dips and Spreads Enhance Today's Entertaining

Dips and spreads are part and parcel of today's informal entertaining. They are easy to mix and easy to serve. Best of all, they put everyone into a relaxed and informal mood.

The choice of dips and spreads has grown to such an extent that there is as much variety in the dips and spreads as there is in the breads and crackers you serve with them.

Four new and different dips and spreads are given here. One is a Russian spread of hard cooked eggs, chili sauce and real mayonnaise. (Have you seen, by the way, the new "Easy Scoop" mayonnaise jars. They are a new modern design which makes it easier to store the jar in the refrigerator and easier for you to remove the last bit of mayonnaise.)

Two of the dips are made with soup mixes. One is with Knorr's new spring vegetable soup mix and sour cream, the other with smoky green pea soup mix and cottage cheese. Both delicious, and easy, of course.

The fourth is an unusual peanut butter spread with an intriguing combination of flavors.

Four good reasons for entertaining!

RUSSIAN SPREAD

5 hard cooked eggs, chopped
¼ cup real mayonnaise
¼ cup chili sauce
¼ teaspoon vinegar
Combine all ingredients. Makes about 2 cups.

Sardines in A Sandwich

An open-face luncheon sandwich, made with sardines, that has good flavor and appearance.

Hot Vegetable Soup
Openface Sardine Sandwiches
Walnuts and Raisins Beverage

OPENFACE SARDINE SANDWICHES

1 can (3½ ounces) brisling sardines
2 small carrots
½ cup minced parsley
1 teaspoon minced onion
1-3 cup mayonnaise
6 slices bread

With a fork, lift the sardines from the oil into a bowl; mash fine. Pare the carrots and cut off tops and root ends; finely grate 1 of the carrots over the sardines; grate the other onto waxed paper and reserve. Mash the sardine-carrot mixture with ¼ cup of the parsley, the onion and mayonnaise. Toast the bread and spread one side of each slice with the reserved grated carrot and the remaining ¼ cup minced parsley. Cut each slice into 2 triangles. Makes 3 or 4 servings.

Dry Soup Mix Serving Idea

When you serve the new canned noodle dry soup mix on the second round prepare it like this: Cook a 2-ounce can drained sliced mushrooms, 2 tablespoons each chopped green pepper and onion in a tablespoon butter or margarine until vegetables are tender. Add 4 cups water; bring to a boil. Stir in a can of noodle dry soup mix. Partially cover; simmer 7 minutes, stirring now and then. Serve 4 to 5.

Mellow Cheese Dip for Party

Liederkrantz is a soft ripened cheese which has a pleasantly mellow flavor, spreads well and combines excellently with a number of ingredients. One example is a tasty cheese dip that paves the way to being a "knowing" hostess.

With the creamy dip, serve a variety of crisp raw vegetables in sizes for easy dipping with the fingers. Include salty rye bread slices or crispy toasted crackers and cups of hot instant coffee.

CREAMY LIEDERKRANTZ DIP (Makes About 3 Cups)

1 (4-oz.) package Liederkrantz Cheese

1 cup (8-oz. container) creamed cottage cheese
1 tablespoon Lemon Juice
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon black pepper
1-3 to ½ cup minced chives
2-3 to 1 cup sour cream

Let Liederkrantz Cheese stand at room temperature until softened. Cream together with cottage cheese. Stir in lemon juice, salt, pepper and chives; blend well. Fold in sour cream. Chill well. Garnish with additional chopped chives. Serve with crackers and assorted crisp vegetables.

Pear Turnover Is Winner Of Your Guests' Applause

Are we dreaming? Or does your tasting experience confirm ours: canned Bartlett pear halves are firmer than they used to be. And this is all to the good.

So many ways to use these pears, but none of them more delicious than giving them pastry as a partner. Bake individual pear turnovers, bake a pear pie, or try this new recipe for a delectable pear tart.

This tart is baked on a cookie sheet, its filling a luscious combination of sour cream, lemon and spices.

When we tried this recipe in our kitchen, we used the pale yellow lard-type shortening that comes in cans because it makes the sort of "short" pastry that rightfully belongs to this dessert.

PEAR TART

2 cans (1 pound each) Bartlett pear halves
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup sugar

¼ cup flour
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup commercial sour cream

Pear Tart Pastry

Drain pear halves thoroughly; cut each pear half in quarters. Sprinkle grated lemon rind and lemon juice over pears. Stir together thoroughly the sugar, flour, cinnamon and nutmeg; mix with quartered pear halves. Fold in sour cream. Place a Pear Tart Pastry round on a cookie sheet;

Short Cut to Dish Is Easy

After partying and the thousand other holiday activities, if you're looking for a short cut to meal preparation, here's a quick dish suggestion, Sirloin Tips Casserole.

1 (16 ounce) package frozen sirloin tips
4 small potatoes
1 tablespoon finely chopped sautéed onions
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 teaspoon paprika
Pat of butter.

Cook and mash potatoes. Heat frozen cooked sirloin tips in sauce pan over low heat or in electric skillet at 280 degrees. Pour tips in buttered casserole dish. Mix onions, parsley and paprika with mashed potatoes and place on top of the sirloin tips. Place dish in 375 degrees oven until potatoes are brown.

BANQUET FRANKFURTERS

Here's a quick supper. Cut 12 frankfurters lengthwise and spread with mustard. Combine 2 cups mashed potatoes, ¼ cup chopped onion, 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento and ¼ cup chopped parsley. Spread mixture on cut surface of 6 frankfurters on top, cut side down. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degree F.) for 20 minutes. This makes 6 servings.

Fresh Pear Salads Spark New Menus

Taste - refreshing fresh pear salads spark New Year menus.

TOSSED PEAR SALAD
Combine 3 parts shredded greens, 2 parts diced unpared pears and 1 part diced Cheddar cheese. Sprinkle with crumbled Roquefort cheese, lemon juice and olive oil. Toss gently. Keep cool for serving.

EMERALD ISLE SALAD
Drain canned crushed pineapple and use juice and water as the liquids when preparing lime flavored gelatin. When slightly thickened fold in diced unpared pears, crushed pineapple, sliced stuffed olives and chopped nuts. Chill until firm. Flute portions with mint-whipped mayonnaise.

LUNCHEON PEAR SALAD
Scoop chicken salad onto a bed of greens, surround with unpared pear slices and garnish with cranberry sauce.

PEAR-CITRUS SALAD
Place unpared pear slices and orange and grapefruit sections on crisp greens. Top with a mayonnaise - sour cream - chopped nut dressing.

PEAR PYRAMID SALAD
Core a fresh unpared pear from the bottom and slice crosswise into 4 sections. Combine 4 parts small curd cottage cheese, 1 part cream cheese, 1 part parmesan cheese and 1 part chopped nuts. Spread mixture between pear sections and rebuild pear upright on crisp greens.

A Peppy Dish For Busy Day

Serve a colorful, peppy busy-day supper like this. Four two 1-pound cans pork and beans with tomato sauce into drip pan of broiler. Put a one-pound slice of pre-cooked ham on broiler rack; place over beans. Broil ham on one side; turn. Arrange around ham: 6 apple rings, 3 bananas (cut in half crosswise), 6 peach halves; brush with 1 tablespoon butter and dust with brown sugar and cinnamon, if desired. Continue broiling until ham and fruit are browned. Serve with pork and beans to 6.

Hi-Fi Club Discusses Two Areas

Members of the Hi-Fi Teen club's executive council met all day Saturday in a planning workshop at the Lincoln Park club-house.

Under the direction of council chairman Ray Marshall and club adviser Ron Madariaga, council members discussed two major areas: program and activities and a revised constitution and by-laws.

Jefferson High school junior, Frances Taborsky, was chairman of a committee discussing rules and regulations. Her committee consisted of David Vogt, Ray Marshall, Chris Davis and Joyce Gaggero.

A committee on membership and guests comprised Elise Dahme, Ray Archuleta, Chuck Spencer and Cece Murrish, chairman.

Riordan High school freshman Bob Vogt and his committee, Toni Nemio, Joann Doyle and Gail Wyman discussed officers and their election.

Final adoption of new rules and a revised constitution will be completed later.

Vista Mar school has a new upon good citizenship as established in the Student Code of Behavior prepared by students. The test for the Code of Behavior was based upon the four way test of truth, fairness, good will and better friendship.

Both children and faculty have returned to Vista Mar refreshed by their vacation during the holiday season and looking forward to the new year.

Mrs. Frances Lanther's class, working with Mrs. Kay Antongiovanni, is writing autobiographies as a part of their language arts experiences. This will lead toward exploration of the biographies of famous persons in the study of American history.

Candidates For Council Will Gather

More than 60 prospective candidates for the executive council of three newly-formed Colma Junior High school teen clubs have been invited to attend an informal party Saturday night at the War Memorial Community center.

Each of the three clubs were allowed to nominate 20 members for the meeting. Ten candidates were nominated by club members while the other ten were nominated by advisers.

The selection night program is sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department. It is designed to choose nine members for each club's executive council. These officers will be responsible for the initial development and planning of their clubs. They will help in formulating club rules and plan all activities.

Participants will be judged on a number of points as a means of determining the best council candidates.

The club advisers and Alan Boyd, supervisor of youth activities, will judge the candidates on these points: appropriate dress for the evening, personality, attitude, association with others, co-operativeness, manners, leadership, fellowship, follow through, imagination, creativity and initiative.

Students Ready For Club Starts

Ben Franklin Junior High school students and other seventh and eighth grade youngsters living west of Junipero Serra boulevard in Daly City, Colma and Broadmoor are looking forward eagerly to the opening of four junior teen clubs Friday night.

The clubs, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department, will meet every second and fourth Friday nights from 7 to 9.

Location of the clubs will be the Westmoor Park clubhouse, the Westlake Park clubhouse and the Daniel Webster and Ben Franklin schools multi-use rooms.

CHARTER DAY SET

New 'Jaycees' Bow on Video

The nation's first teenage Junior Chamber of Commerce—formed in Daly City—was introduced to the Bay Area on television Friday night.

The second meeting of the organization, formed late in November, was taped Thursday and shown on KPIX. The show was narrated by Van Amburg.

The club is the first known attempt to establish a teenage junior chamber of commerce.

According to Joseph Bavaresco, president of the Daly City-Colma Junior Chamber of Commerce, the group has met with "tremendous response" from city and school officials.

The group is being eyed by some towns in Southern California, Bavaresco said. If it is successful, some of the members will be asked to help those cities form their own units.

Approximately 30 teenagers appeared at the meeting in the War Memorial building to express interest in joining the chamber.

Charter night for the club will be held next month, Bavaresco said. Some state officials are expected to attend.

Meanwhile, the group will attempt to build its treasury with two money-raising car wash projects planned for Saturday at Skyline plaza and on Mission street.

Serving as interim officers are: Desmond Epidendio, 445 A street, president; George Eberle, 353 Second avenue, internal vice president; Salvatore Daniele, 18 Bismark street, external vice president; Jim Grand Boushe, 14 Hill street, treasurer; Mike O'Dea, 679 MacArthur drive, secretary, and Bill Miske, 396 Third avenue, sergeant-at-arms.

Pacifica Teen Group Offers Member Cards

The Pacifica Teen club is encouraging all teen-agers interested in the club to purchase a membership card. Cost of the cards is $1 and they are valid until June.

Starting this month, teen-agers holding club cards will be admitted to club meetings, teen activity nights and other functions (except dances) free.

Anyone interested in attending the above functions and who does not hold a membership card will be charged a fee. At dances, the fee will be higher for non-card holders.

A teen activity night is held the first Wednesday of each month in Oceana High school.

The teen club meetings are held Tuesdays at the Pedro Valley school.

Both functions start at 7:30 p.m. and end at 9:30 p.m. Further information may be obtained from the recreation department at FL 5-4151.

Broadmoor Church Sets Annual Meet

The Broadmoor Presbyterian church will hold its annual congregational meeting tonight, according to the Rev. Herbert Tweedie, pastor.

Annual organization and financial reports will be received, the financial budget adopted and new officers elected.

The Rev. Tweedie will preside along with Rodman Barnes, chairman of the trustees. The Women's association will provide refreshments for a social period following the meeting.

Officers retiring after three year terms are Frank Garretson, Bob McBride, Tom Filmer and Rex Spruiell from the session; Frances Dethlefsen, Dollie Lawson, Lillian Herivel and Ann Hollenbeck from the board of deacons and Rodman Barnes and P. Edward Smith from the board of trustees.

Newly elected officers will be installed Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship service.

The junior choir, conducted by Delmar Severy, will sing at the 9:30 service.

B'nai Israel Service Set

Rabbi Solomon A. Shore of Congregation B'nai Israel will discuss "The Jewish Problem at the United Nations" at the congregation's family worship service at 8:30 Friday evening.

A Shoshin service will be conducted in memory of the late Mrs. Iva Biegs who served as president of the Daughters of Israel.

An officers meeting will be held at the home of Julius Michaelis, president of the congregation, at 8:30 tomorrow night. He lives at 81 Glenbrook avenue.

A board meeting will be held at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Temple House at 67 Los Banos avenue.

Members will discuss plans for a site for the congregation's new Temple House.

Hope Lutheran Installs 1963 Officer Slate

Hope Lutheran church at 55 San Fernando way, Daly City, installed church officers at its Epiphany service Sunday. The officers had been elected at the quarterly meeting of the Voters' Assembly November 9.

Installed were: Max Duncan, chairman; Leonard Tiedje, vice chairman; Paul Douglas, secretary; Ray Little, financial secretary, and Ed Pringle, treasurer.

New members of the board installed were: Ray Buntin, Charles Castro, Karl Fincken, Alex Fleischer, Armand Geise, Ed Koerwitz, Grayson Kuehnert and Al Wilson.

Elders who will continue to serve this year include Larry Elder, Robert Haftson, Warren Manahan and Dale Williams.

At the morning worship service, Pastor Armin H. Polster delivered a sermon on the topic: "Our God-given Gifts—To Have and to Use."

Pastor Slates Sermon Series

The Reverend Kenneth D. Hansen, pastor of Westlake Lutheran church, has announced the theme of a new series of sermons: "Christ Illumines Life."

Worship service Sunday will be at 11 a.m.

"Christ Illumines Who I Am," "Where I Belong" and "How I Am to Live" are the sermon topics chosen in observance of the Epiphany season, which celebrates the manifestation of Christ to the Gentiles and stresses Christ as the "Light of lights."

The congregation will be invited to direct questions to the pastor, which will be answered in the monthly church paper.

AND CHURCH ACTIVITIES OF DALY CITY, COLMA AND PACIFICA

St. Martin's Will Install A New Vicar

The Reverend Richard P. Fowler will be installed as Vicar of St. Martin's Episcopal church, 777 Southgate avenue, Daly City, at a special service at 7 p.m. Sunday, January 20.

The Rt. Reverend G. Richard Millard, Suffragan Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of California, will read the evening prayer service as a part of the installation.

The Reverend Leslie Wilder, rector of St. Matthew's Episcopal church of San Mateo and Acting Dean of the San Mateo Deanery, will install the Rev. Mr. Fowler.

All members of the Mission and their friends are cordially invited to attend this service.

After the installation, the members of St. Martin's will meet in the church for the annual meeting.

Orientation Is Planned

An orientation meeting for Bethlehem Lutheran church will be held at 7 p.m. Monday to plan the official organization of the congregation.

The meeting will be in the parsonage at 2780 Berkshire drive, San Bruno.

The Rev. T. Arnold Thompson, regional director of American Missions for the American Lutheran church, will discuss plans for the new church and answer questions.

Anyone interested in learning how a new church is born is welcome to attend this meeting.

According to the Rev. George S. Johnson, pastor of the newly formed church, plans are completed to purchase a site near Sharp Park road, Westborough boulevard, and Skyline drive.

As soon as a site can be purchased, a building will be erected under the policy of the Board of American Missions.

3 New Sermon Talks Planned

The Rev. George S. Johnson, pastor of Bethlehem Lutheran church, will begin a series of three sermons Sunday on the nature and mission of the Christian church.

The theme for the first is: "Why Join a Church?"

On the next two Sundays, he will preach on: "A Restless Church," and "The Church Militant."

The purpose of these sermons will be to show the unique purpose for the existence of the church in society, and how the church differs from clubs and social organizations.

Services for Bethlehem are temporarily being held at the Pacific Heights school.

Westside Pastor Continues 'Others Believe' Series

The Reverend A. David Donnelly, pastor of Westside Baptist church, will continue his study series, "What Others Believe," at the church's mid-week prayer and Bible study hour, 442 Helen drive, Millbrae, at 7:45 tonight.

Tomorrow morning, the women of the church are asked to attend a Bible study hour, led by Mrs. Alton Swedberg, at the home of Mrs. Clair Sturdevant, 111 Adrian avenue, South San Francisco.

Because of increased enrollment, two new Sunday school classes have been formed at Westside.

Mrs. James Besser will teach a new fourth grade group and Moses Hernandez will teach a new second grade class.

At the Sunday morning service, the Rev. Mr. Donnelly will speak on: "Obedience Brings Blessings." The service will begin at 11.

At the 7 p.m. evening gospel hour—Sunday, the pastor will discuss: "Blessings of Redemption," the second in a series of messages from the Book of Ephesians.

Temple Judea Sets Program

Temple Judea will hold its regular Sabbath evening services at 8:30 Friday at the Temple at 95 South Mayfair avenue.

Rabbi Herbert Morris and Cantor Harold Wachter will officiate. Later, the usual Oneg Shabbat will be held.

Seal Sales Aid Researcher Who Probes Diffusion

Christmas Seal dollars from San Mateo county are being used to support the research of Dr. Robert K. Jennings, a biologist with the Office of Naval Research.

Working alone in a San Francisco basement, he is developing a tool that will aid physicians in the diagnosis and treatment of tuberculosis, other respiratory diseases, and cancer.

"Diagnostic tools are as important to medicine as a fork is to a meal," says Dr. Jennings, president of the San Mateo county TB association.

"No miracle drugs or magic vaccines will come from Dr. Jennings' investigations, but his work with gel diffusion precipitation analysis is equally valuable."

Gel diffusion analysis is one method of measuring antibodies, the chemicals the body produces in an effort to rid the blood stream of foreign matter such as the germs causing TB. Dr. Jennings aims to refine this method into a simple, yet precise procedure suitable for medical practice, according to Dr. Bodie.

In the course of his investigation, Dr. Jennings "invented" a disposable plastic dish for his analyses, which will allow accurate and detailed measurements when perfected. It will be quite inexpensive.

"The end result," says Dr. Bodie, "will be a valuable tool permitting the physician to recognize a wide variety of diseases and to follow the patient's progress while undergoing treatment. It may be used to measure bacteria such as those which cause TB and rheumatic fever, and non-bacterial substances such as those in allergies and cancer."

"His research, with a minimum of equipment and under a grant small by today's scientific standards, is a good example of valuable investigations accomplished with limited expenditures. We believe this kind of work merits the Christmas Seal support of every one in our community."

The first increase since 1960 in the number of students on half-day sessions in California public schools was reported Saturday by Superintendent of Public Instruction Roy E. Simpson.

A State Department of Education survey showed 67,992 pupils attending classes on a half-day basis last fall as compared with 66,173 a year earlier, 93,952 in 1960 and the record high of 201,391 in 1953.

Main reason for the rise, Simpson explained, was a Northern California construction strike which delayed occupancy of many classrooms. An estimated 18,247 students were affected by the tieup.

Although there were more half-day students, they constituted a smaller part—2.05 compared with 2.10 per cent—of the enrollment in grades one through 12. This came about as a result of an enrollment jump from 3,144,157 to 3,315,575.

There were 29 counties with half-day pupils. Among them was San Mateo county where the number of such students totaled 1,719 last fall as compared with 840 the previous year.

San Bruno showed amazing commercial growth in 1962 also, with 28 new buildings erected during the year, as compared with 19 in 1961, 11 in 1960, and eight in 1959.

The number of alterations (commercial and residential) was higher at 456 than last year (410), but short of the record 464 reported in 1959. Plumbing permits were higher than last year, but below 1959, but electrical permits set a new record.

Reporting only on December, Bredlow said San Bruno had an excellent building month with 69 permits being issued for $893,243 evaluation (including 45 new homes, 3 apartment buildings, two new commercial buildings and 19 alterations). The total for December, 1961, was 50 permits issued for only $483,033 valuation, slightly less than half of this year's December total.

A pre-convention meeting of San Mateo county members of the California Republican Assembly will be held January 22 at the home of Clay Barham, president and secretary of the Millbrae-Burlingame unit, 1033 Laguna avenue, Burlingame.

The state convention will be held February 22 at Disneyland. Mrs. Hal Warner of San Carlos, director at large of the CRA, said eleventh congressional district director William Simonson is expected to report on the board meeting at Palm Springs, and upon his meeting with Oregon's Governor Hatfield.

New officers of the San Mateo county Optometric society will be installed at a dinner meeting of the vision specialists at the Hilton hotel Saturday.

They are Dr. Lawrence K. Onitsuka of Redwood City, president; Dr. William M. Van Bokkelen of Burlingame, 1964 president-elect, and Dr. Donald A. McLachlan of San Mateo, secretary-treasurer.

Co-chairmen of the installation dinner and ceremony are past presidents Dr. Robert L. Mandel of San Carlos and Dr. Melvin W. Bradford of San Mateo.

Dr. Onitsuka, who has practiced in Woodside Plaza in Redwood City for five years, is a member of the San Mateo Highlands Homeowners association and the St. Bartholomew parish, San Mateo.

Dr. Van Bokkelen is a member of the Burlingame Lions club, the Burlingame American Legion, the U. C. School of Optometry Alumni association, the American Optometric foundation and the First Presbyterian church of Burlingame.

Dr. McLachlan is a past exalted ruler of the San Mateo Elks club; a director of the San Mateo Rotary club and was a member of the San Mateo Elementary school board for 12 years and president of the board for eight years.

Outgoing President Dr. Paul R. Leigh of Redwood City will become a director-at-large of the society for 1963. Other appointments to the board of directors will be announced by Dr. Onitsuka after the installation ceremony.

A report reviewing accomplishments of San Mateo county government in 1962 has been received from the printer and is available for public distribution.

The "Achievement Report," which cost $1300 for 3000 copies, was authorized by the board to inform the public about the "development of the county, what has been done to meet the essential needs of a growing community, and what is contemplated to meet the problems of the future."

Record Year For Building In San Bruno

Home Permits
Pace '62
Mark

Another record year for building in San Bruno was reported Friday by Chief Building Inspector Melvin Bredlow. Contrary to the trend in most other Peninsula cities.

Total valuation of new construction during the year 1962 was $10,514,719, as compared with $10,029,244 in 1961. There was a wider gap between the number of building permits issued, however, since 946 permits were issued in 1962 as compared with 677 in 1961.

Totals for the year were: new single-family homes—421 permits for $4,123,300 valuation; duplexes—six permits for $115,100 valuation; apartments—22 permits for $1,439,000 valuation; commercial—30 permits for $1,856,748 valuation; residential alterations—375 permits for $401,972 valuation; commercial alterations—81 permits for $98,599 valuation.

Bredlow's analysis of the past four years showed that 1962 was a record year for new living units, with 639 more built during the year, as compared with 384 in 1961, 417 in 1960, and 560 in 1959. (Previous record for single family dwellings was set in 1959, with 411 reported).

More apartment building were building in San Bruno than in any of the three previous years, another record.

San Bruno showed amazing commercial growth in 1962 also, with 28 new buildings erected during the year, as compared with 19 in 1961, 11 in 1960, and eight in 1959.

PLANT OF THE WEEK is Zygocactus truncatus, better known as the Christmas Cactus, a tropical house plant that produces its scarlet blooms just in time for the Christmas holidays.

Christmas Cactus Is Week's Plant

The "Christmas Cactus," botanically known as Zygocactus truncatus and Epiphyllum truncatum, is The Post Plant of the Week.

Christmas Cactus gets its popular name from its habit of blooming from November through January thus furnishing a mass of scarlet flowers at Christmas time. It is also known as "Crab Cactus" because the pendulous stems consist of a series of curiously molded joints or leaves that resemble those of the crab. The Christmas cactus differs from the true cactus in that the leaves are unarmed. It also differs from the epiphyllums in that it has irregular flowers while epiphyllum flowers are regular. It is this irregularity that gives this plant its botanical name.

The Christmas cactus grows native in southern Brazil where it is found growing high up in the crotches of trees. These crotches catch leaves, bits of moss and other debris that break down into a fine humus that makes an ideal rooting medium for broken segments of this plant. Even in cultivation the plant is easily propagated by breaking off a tip end containing four or five joints and inserting the base in moist sand, vermiculite or well rotted leaf-mold. These rooted segments multiply by sending out two segments from the tip of the older one. Sometimes the new segments will come from the joints along stems.

The scarlet flowers are usually borne at the tips of the mature segments but sometimes develop at the joints along the stems. In order to produce a good crop of bloom the plant must pass through a definite growth cycle. If the cycle is broken, the plant either fails to set buds or drops them before they open. The Christmas cactus needs a temperature between 60 and 70 degrees during the winter. It also needs plenty of sun so place it near an east or west window. In the summer it should have a place outdoors in a semi-shaded area such as is enjoyed by camellias and fuchsias.

Though Miss Mason states she has not reported her zygocactus in the past six years they bloom more profusely for the average owner if they are reported every second year. They like a rich, humus-filled soil like that used for African violets. In fact the commercially blended African violet soil mix does an excellent job. The best time for transplanting or repotting is late spring after the plants have finished flowering and the weather is warm enough for them to be placed in their summer quarters. Be sure the plants are protected from the

Too Early to Prune Plants

Experienced rosarians and horticulturists warn that the first weeks in January are too early to prune roses, fuchsias and most deciduous shrubs and trees in Peninsula gardens. Weather in this area is too unpredictable and we may have several days of warmer than normal weather followed by some of the coldest weather of the winter.

Plants on the Peninsula, even those that drop their leaves completely, cannot go completely dormant due to the mildness of the climate. Pruning stimulates the plants into growth. Should a warm spell follow the pruning, buds will begin to swell and new growth breaks from the swollen tips. Should the temperature drop to freezing or even just low enough for frost these new tips will be injured.

Injured tips keep on growing and unless the plant is quite frost tender the damage will not show up until blooming time.

By IVA NEWMAN

Leading the cotillion of new plant introductions for 1963 are two new All-America winning zinnias and five new All-America winning vegetables. Two new roses, Tropicana and Royal Highness, and four gladioli, Frisky, Goldlocks, Morning Sun and Victory, have made their 1963 debut wearing the coveted All-America crown.

Leading the parade is Ferry-Morse's dwarf zinnia "Thumbelina," the first new seed grown flower to win a Gold Medal in 12 years. Fire Chief, the first red petunia, won this coveted Gold Medal in 1950. No new introduction since that time has been sufficiently different or outstanding to win this high award. Second in line is "Firecracker," an extra large red zinnia which won the almost as rare, Silver Medal Award of the All-America Selections.

Thumbelina, female diminutive for Tom Thumb of the Hans Christian Anderson tales is the dwarfest of cultivated zinnias. Last summer, after our trip to the Ferry-Morse Seed ranch, we wrote of this little zinnia that seemed to offer so much for the modern home garden. Thumbelina is only about six inches in height, a compact everblooming little plant that continues to bloom over a long season. Most of all the zinnia colors are represented in the one and a quarter inch double blooms. Of particular interest to gardeners is the way new stems arise to blanket foliage over the passing flowers and open other covers of bloom to keep the plants full of clean color.

Six-Inch Blooms
Firecracker zinnia has extra large flowers, up to six inches across and two inches deep. The color is a very rich scarlet red and the stems are long and strong. However, the petals are quilled and waved to give the huge bloom a light airiness in contrast to the heaviness of the large flat petalled blooms. This is truly an exhibition flower for the garden and for use in an arrangement of cut flowers. The plants reach a height of about 30 inches and bush out to make good-looking clumps. These plants also show a good deal of resistance to mildew, a troublesome problem to zinnia growing in some gardens.

The five new 1963 vegetables to receive awards from All-America Selections are: Lettuce 'Buttercrunch'; Cabbage, 'Emerald Cross'; Winter Squash, 'Hercules'; Summer Squash, 'Greyzini'; and Snapbean 'Executive'. Only one other vegetable introduction has merited an award in the past three years, turnip, 'Just Right'. It is the first hybrid turnip, excellent for its uniform white bulbous roots of fine-grained quality and its abundant foliage for succulent turnip greens.

Tender-Tasty Lettuce
Buttercrunch lettuce, developed by Dr. G. J. Raleigh of Cornell University, is of the highest eating quality and comparable with one of its parents, the famous Kentucky Bibb variety. Considered the finest quality of all, Bibb is a cool weather lettuce, which does not stand heat and bolts quickly to seed. Buttercrunch is much larger heading, more heat tolerant and a couple weeks slower to bolt to seed. Therefore, it is useful over a much longer growing season, produces double the growth and is quite weather tolerant. Leaves are thick, crisp and juicy, deep green in color except as blanched inside to creamy yellow or white. Most home gardeners will use the outer leaves, as with loose-leaf lettuce, as they form. However, the outer leaves of this new 1963 Buttercrunch, will remain succulent, sweet and tender, without bitterness, after the loose heads are formed. The inner leaves and blanched heart are simply delicious.

Emerald Cross cabbage is a true hybrid, developed in Japan. With exceptional hybrid vigor and uniformity, it is also extra early to mature its medium small heads. Of Golden Acre earliness and Copenhagen market type, heads are firm, round and popular in appearance and the most popular size and shape for home and market use. It produces practically 100 per cent useable or marketable uniform heads. Protective outer leaves are deep green and solid heads are blanched white. The inner core is slim and slightly elongated. It is highly productive and, like Buttercrunch lettuce, is a Silver Medal winner.

Hercules squash, the other Silver medalist, is of the most popular Buttercrunch type of late winter squash. But, it is much larger, thicker fleshed and with a straight solid neck. The vine is more vigorous. The seed cavity is very small in the blossom end giving the squash almost solid flesh of fine texture and top flavor. The flesh is rich orange, sweet and dry, with long lasting quality to its blocky fruits. Hercules is high productive needing about 82 days for maturity.

Flashy Squash

Greyzini summer squash, a true F1 hybrid, is a grey zucchini type. It is generally earlier, slender and longer or cucumber shaped, more uniform and a heavier bearer on more vigorous plants. Both skin and flesh are tender and of fine texture in its eating stage. The bright and darker green flashes on the light green, grey, skin give Greyzini a flashy and tempting appearance in contrast to the black zucchini. You can eat bits of it raw like a radish for an appetizer or cook it in any of the ways of preparing summer squash. It is delicious, but, it must be used when three to eight days from the time its blossom drops. It does not need peeling. Pick it young and tender and often to keep it bearing over a long season. Of bush type, it is useful even in small gardens and a few plants will supply both family and friends.

Executive bush snapbean brings further improvement and productivity to the 'Tendergreen' type bean. It is a long time since 'Tendergreen' won the All-America coveted Gold Medal in 1933, 30 years ago, and became the largest planted bean in America. Almost half of all snapbean seeds sold in America during World War II, victory garden time, were 'Tendergreen'. Executive is a slightly larger plant than 'Tendergreen' and 'Tendergreen' proved Tendergreen and Tendergreen, with seemingly better yield and smoother pods. The full 1963 has to offer.

round pods are darker green, of good length and have light buff colored seeds at maturity. Quality is generally excellent, meaty with a pleasant flavor. For home gardens, pods should be picked when young and tender. Also, small successive plantings should be made to keep up the supply for the full season.

All-America Selections are the result of the only authentic pre-introductory testing and comparative rating of new flower and vegetable seed varieties for North America. Sponsored by the garden seed industry of the United States and Canada, entries are from private, commercial and public institution plant breeders from around the world. AAS is a non-profit educational institution, self-perpetuated by its Council of Judges who are responsible for their trial grounds and evaluations of merit and behavior of each entry under their climatic and soil conditions.

Seed from All-America Selections winners is available at all nurseries and garden supply stores in every part of the United States and Canada. Each seed packet carries full instructions for the planting, growing and harvesting of the flower or vegetable variety contained in the packet. These seed packets permit every home owner to grow the newest and best flowers and vegetables obtainable at the lowest possible price. Treat your yard, with seemingly better yield and smoother pods. The full 1963 has to offer.

HOME & GARDENS

Garden Center Show Jan. 10

The first regular 1963 meeting of the San Mateo county Garden Center will be held in the Garden Center room at the San Mateo county Fair building, San Mateo, tomorrow evening at 8 p.m. Clay Morgan, well known rosarian and member of the Peninsula Rose society, and an accredited rose judge, will discuss the pruning and care of roses for the coming year.

Watering is started again November 1. During the active summer growth period fertilize the plants twice a month with a liquid fertilizer. When watering is resumed in November resume the fertilizer program.

Give the plants back their sunny window space in early November for sunlight is needed for the production of flowers. In no time tiny pink buds appear and by late November or early December the plants will be covered with bright scarlet blooms.

Divers Fail to Locate Missing Outfall Line

Half Moon Bay city officials so far have been unable to solve the mystery of the disappeared outfall sewer line.

After last October's storms, outfall from the sewer line, which was constructed at a cost of $68,000 in 1959 and ran 1550 feet out into the Pacific ocean, began backing up into the municipal sewer treatment plant.

Daly City plans to build an ocean outfall in the Thornton beach area at a cost of approximately $325,000.

Emergency measures were immediately taken to bypass the line, and extra portions of chlorine were added to disinfect all sewage. All beaches in the area were posted as contaminated.

First, a local diver, Ray Lee was hired to locate the missing line. Although he dived for three full days, no trace of the line could be found.

Then the city retained a San Carlos firm, Blasting Specialists, Inc. Divers were sent out for two full days, and chains were dragged across where the line should have been. Not only could the firm not find the line, but its divers were unable even to locate 12 diffusion pipes 1550 feet off-shore which once stuck up five feet.

Electronic
Last night, City Engineer Norman Hanson suggested that the city resort to the latest of electronic devices. He said Varian Associates have recently developed a device for locating metal objects under the water. Although the company has been renting the device for $400, it has agreed to attempt to locate the missing outfall sewer line for $150. Councilmen immediately appropriated funds for the electronic search.

If the firm is unable to find the sewer line, city officials estimate it will now cost $90,000 to replace the line. Councilmen adjourned last week's meeting on an emergency basis to meet again as soon as it is determined if the line can be re-discovered.

In a matter also relating to the city's sewage system, councilmen called for bids for February 5 to construct an outfall sewer line to serve Pilarcitos Park, the new shopping center at the end of San Mateo road and Ocean Park.

An ordinance was introduced last night rezoning 139 building sites on 261 lots of Pilarcitos Park from a single-family to an apartment zone.

Also introduced last night was an ordinance creating the office of city administrator. Slated to be named to the post is Fred Paxton, now city clerk and building inspector.

Representatives of the H. Kent Atwater company were asked to submit complete plans for developing the Highland Park area before the council will agree to allow the firm to construct homes on 40-foot frontage lots. It was pointed out that if the city gave the firm blanket approval without complete plans it would be faced with similar requests for an office for other substandard real estate developments.

New Year Traffic Toll Is 'Normal'

No worse than some normal weekends.

That is the California Highway Patrol's report on the traffic toll on San Mateo county highways during the four-day New Year's holiday.

The patrol reported a total of 42 persons hurt in 22 injury accidents in the period between noon Friday and 6 a.m. today. No one was killed.

During the period highway patrolmen issued 319 citations for moving violations, but arrested only two motorists for drunk driving.

Despite the comparatively good record during both the Christmas and New Year's holidays, according to CHP Officer Frank Fenlon, the patrol handled more accidents in December than ever before in one month in the county. There were 305 crashes, compared with 244 in December, 1961.

Fenlon said a total of 225 persons were hurt during the month in 133 injury accidents. In 1961, 135 were hurt in 99 accidents in December.

The officer said statistics show that more accidents occur on the stretch of Bayshore Freeway in San Mateo city than in any other place in the county. The second most dangerous stretch is on Bay shore near International Airport.

Union Drive By Teachers

The American Federation of Teachers says it will work harder to organize teachers in San Mateo county.

AFT, in an article published in AFL-CIO's official county publication, the Union Gazette, said teachers should join a labor union so they might be represented in collective bargaining.

Susan Greenfield, president of AFT Local 1119 in South San Francisco, said:

"Now, with the challenge of the American Federation of Teachers, the California Teachers' association is being forced into action and finds itself ineligible to represent teachers in a collective bargaining election because of its administrator membership."

CTA, larger and older than California's AFT, admits teachers, principals, and other administrators to membership.

AFT limits membership to teachers, and thus is able to qualify as a labor union in collective bargaining situations, and to otherwise represent teachers in opposition to administrators.

The union says the presence of administrators inhibits free discussion of their problems by teachers.

"The CTA's long-held position that teachers and administrators belong in the same group is no longer tenable. Administrators will have to be eliminated from the group to make it eligible for collective bargaining."

"Claims that it is not professional to belong to a union, have been dispelled by such outstanding examples as opera, theatre, and musicians' unions and by the teachers' unions themselves."

Occasion was the signing of an agreement authorizing a $5,000,000 de luxe apartment and commercial development on the club property in South San Francisco.

S.F. Only Lukewarm For Airport

As before, San Francisco officials were somewhat less than impressed last week with a suggestion that the San Mateo county airport at Half Moon Bay be given to San Francisco.

"There would be no immediate advantage for San Francisco," said Robert C. Kirkwood, general manager of the Public Utilities department. "But we'd be glad to talk to them, of course."

San Mateo County Manager E. R. Stallings said he got the same reaction when he proposed the transfer three years ago. Stallings suggested that, if the county cannot get a federal grant to extend the airport runway so jets can land there, San Francisco might like to take over ownership of the facility and develop it as an auxiliary to International airport.

Kirkwood, however, expressed doubt that the Half Moon Bay airport would be used enough to justify the expenditure of millions of dollars for runways and terminal buildings.

The Half Moon Bay port was used by propeller craft several days last month when International airport was socked in by fog. Jets could not land on the 5000-foot runway, however. Stallings proposed that first, before talking with San Francisco authorities, the county ask the federal government for enough money, perhaps $750,000, to lengthen the runway so jets can land there.

The San Mateo county board of supervisors is scheduled to consider the matter at a study meeting tomorrow.

Woman Hurt in D.C. Accident

Estelle Marie Engler, 50, 87 Clearview drive, Daly City, complained of pain in her arm after her auto struck a parked car in front of 969 Skyline drive last Tuesday. She saw her own physician.

She told police her hand slipped from the car steering wheel as she was attempting to make a turn. The parked car was owned by Alfred C. Coppin, 969 Skyline.

Project Planned Near Golf Club

Plans for a $5,000,000 de luxe apartment and commercial development on California Golf club property in South San Francisco were announced last week.

Club President Ralph Stiles of Hillsborough said the project will be undertaken by Club View Apartments, Inc., an organization headed by Louis Poletti, prominent North Peninsula realtor. Other principals in the development include Peter Mazzanti, South San Francisco nurseryman, treasurer of the corporation.

Stiles said the club has granted Poletti and Mazzanti a 55-year lease on 10 acres of choice property located east of the club house and fronting on El Camino Real. The golf club's holdings cover more than 200 acres between El Camino Real and Junipero Serra boulevard.

Scheduled to get under way early this year will be construction on 300-unit de luxe apartment buildings, bank, professional offices and a department store, according to Poletti.

The Poletti plan was selected from several proposals which the club had invited for proper development of the property.

James C. Gardiner, AIA, has been retained to design the buildings. The entire complex should be completed within two years, Poletti said.

The driver of the runaway car was Mrs. Gail LaPlante, an 18-year-old pregnant housewife of San Francisco. She told police she was coming down the Forty-fifth avenue hill when she noticed her foot brake would not work. She pulled back on the emergency brake and found it, too, would not function.

She said her car was traveling about 50 miles an hour when she crashed broadside into Mrs. Alvarado's car. The impact knocked the Alvarado auto about 60 feet onto the sidewalk.

Mrs. LaPlante was cited for operating a vehicle with defective brakes and driving with an expired driving license.

All four were treated at Park Emergency hospital and later transferred to private hospitals.

Court Test Of Dumping Law Readied

The way was cleared Friday for a court test of the county ordinance which prohibits garbage trucks from coming into the county without a permit from the county Board of Supervisors.

The G and L Debris Box company of San Francisco, which was denied a permit, deliberately dispatched a truckload of garbage to test the law. Authorities were notified in advance that the truck was coming.

Sheriff's Deputy Paul Hale duly stopped the truck on Bayshore freeway in Redwood City and wrote out a ticket, ordering the driver to appear in Municipal Court in Redwood City at 10 a.m. January 14. It is conceivable that the driver, John W. Gunther of San Rafael, could be sentenced to jail.

Jay Walsh, a G and L official, and the firm's attorney, John Lank, contended that the county ordinance is discriminatory because it is not applied to other companies and individuals who haul garbage and refuse from San Francisco to San Mateo county dumps.

The G and L company outbid other scavenging companies in San Francisco for the contract at the Presidio. The firm, unable to contract to use any of the established disposal sites in San Francisco, started hauling to the South County district dump of East of Redwood City.

Word got to the county board, however, and G and L was required to apply for a permit, which was denied. Supervisors said they wanted to discourage outsiders from coming into the county because of the difficulty of providing enough dump facilities for San Mateo county residents.

After the truck was stopped Friday, Gunther continued on and dumped his load for a fee of $12.

Walsh said that after the company was forbidden to use the local dump, G and L started hauling from the Presidio to a dump in Novato, where the fee was $16. Then, too, there was the Golden Gate bridge fare.

G and L's lawyer, John Lank, commented several hours later in San Francisco that the entire operation may have to be repeated because Deputy Hale wrote down the wrong ordinance number on the citation he issued.

The correct ordinance, said Lank, is number 4100.1, whereas Hale reportedly wrote down 4001.1.

"We may have to do the whole thing over again," groaned Walsh.

A 23-inch television set was reported stolen from the home of Sandra Coppin, 969 Skyline drive, Daly City last week. The burglar entered the home by a rear garage door.

Daly City Man Nearly Hit in Party Shooting

Al Grimaude, 19, of 1807 Junipero Serra boulevard, Daly City, was bowled over by a party-crasher car last Tuesday while attending a New Year's party at which one man was killed by gunfire.

William Binderup, 24, unemployed San Francisco boilermaker who was host of the party, shot and killed Walter Martin, 30, of San Francisco, while trying to drive off a group of would-be party crashers.

Binderup, who was booked for investigation of murder, said that about 12:30 a.m., John McMahon, one of the 15 or 16 guests at the house party, was slugged on the head as he went out to his car. Binderup said he went out to see what had happened and saw a car full of people drive off.

He said that about a half hour later four or five cars drove up, parked outside and some of the occupants scrambled out and tried to crash the party. Binderup said he went to his bedroom closet and got a .30-30 hunting rifle and two cartridges. He said he fired a shot into the ground, but although the intruders got into their cars, they still refused to leave.

Binderup said he was asking the driver of one car to leave when another car ran him down. Grimaude also was nearly knocked over.

Binderup said he was stunned, but pulled himself into a kneeling position and fired the gun, with the intention of shooting it into the air. Instead, Binderup said, the gun went off before he got it straight up. The bullet passed through the rear of a car driven by Lee Harris Jr. and hit Martin in the heart. Martin's wife, Josephine, was sitting beside her husband when he was killed.

Robert Harris, 31, of San Francisco, driver of the car which allegedly ran down Binderup and Grimaude, was arrested later and booked on suspicion of felonious assault.

Named to Hear Local Appeals

Superior Court Judges Edmund Scott, Louis B. Dematteis and Frank B. Blum have been designated judges of the court appellate division for 1963 by Chief Justice Phil S. Gibson of the state Supreme Court. Judge Scott was named chairman.

The calls included reports of two family arguments, a youngster who had swallowed a penny, a stolen car that was recovered later, two arrests for drunkenness, two broken windows and a stolen television set.

While police to the north battled gangs of youths on Market street, Daly City police headquarters received only 16 calls from 6 p.m. New Year's Eve to 6 a.m. New Year's Day. No auto accident injuries were reported.

Windows at Daly City Are Smashed

Four separate cases of window smashing were reported to Daly City Police last week.

Car windows of vehicles owned by Angelo Ercoline, 236 First avenue, and Hazel F. Howard, Oakland, were smashed between 10 and 10:45 p.m. Both cars were parked on Brunswick street just south of Wellington.

Someone threw a bottle through the rear bedroom window of Irving Brown, 334 Highgate avenue, between 6 and 7:40. Damage was estimated at $50.

A little later Marjorie Crawford, 480 Lakeshire avenue, reported that an unknown juvenile broke her rear basement window with a rock.

The driver of the runaway car was Mrs. Gail LaPlante, an 18-year-old pregnant housewife of San Francisco. She told police she was coming down the Forty-fifth avenue hill when she noticed her foot brake would not work. She pulled back on the emergency brake and found it, too, would not function.

Brakes Fail, Four Hurt

Mrs. Marlene Alvarado, 25, 334 Woodrow street, Daly City, and her two children were injured seriously last week when struck by an allegedly brakeless auto in San Francisco.

Mrs. Alvarado suffered multiple head and internal injuries in the 4:30 p.m. collision at Balboa street and Forty-fifth avenue. Her two children, Robbie 5, and Patie, 2½, sustained severe cuts and bruises.

Triple Jackpot Points Continue at Barney's

Barney O'Malia, Lake Tahoe's smiling Irishman, is starting the New Year out right: During the Christmas holidays, triple points (redeemable for cash at face value) were given away on all jackpots at Barney's Casino, Lake Tahoe (South Shore), Nevada—which delighted the customers. This policy will be continued through St. Patrick's Day—at which time Barney will hold open house.

It's not too early to put a circle around this calendar date for a little "Winning of the Green" and an Irish jig when receiving the "jackpot signal."

Construction is under way on a second floor bar and cocktail lounge, along with additional gaming space. Business has increased threefold since the casino opened a little over a year ago, and Barney believes in giving his customers every modern convenience during their South Shore, Nevada, visit.

The Morocco Room has added additional space for those who like to dance. Music by name bands, via the juke box. . . . A salute to Burlingame La Touraine for being one of the most outstanding restaurants to blossom forth during 1962. With competition in this field being what it is, food, service and operation are essential factors—and the La Touraine has just that.

Harry James Heads Harrah's Lounge Program

Harry James and His Music Makers headline the entertainment program in the Stateline Lounge at Harrah's Tahoe. Meanwhile, at Harrah's Reno Show Lounge, Jerry Colonna tops the program. Madcap comedian Jerry Lewis continues to draw large crowds in the beautiful South Shore Room. On the lounge entertainment program are: (Stateline Lounge) Jimmy Wakely, Frankie Brent, Angie Calan, and Santos and Johnny; (Reno Show Lounge) Judy Lynn, Johnnie "Scat" Davis, Susie and the Night Owls, and One Plus ONE.

That wasn't Frankie Lane singing with Joe Marcellino's Capri Room orchestra, last Friday night, it was George Taylor, one of San Francisco's leading advertising gents, giving his all in a vocal rendition of "Dinah."

Chef Aeberhard Returns to Charlier

Fred Aeberhard has returned home to the Villa Charlier as executive chef—the position he held with the restaurant back in 1944.

Fred brings with him world-wide experience in the field of food preparation. He was born in Switzerland, served his apprenticeship in that country and later in Holland, England, France, Italy and Canada. Prior to World War II he was banquet chef at the St. Francis Hotel and chef at the Press and Union League club.

You're in for a Mexican food treat when visiting Pancho's (at Five Points in Redwood City). Select your food from a gleaming stainless steel display and it's prepared to order in minutes. Recipes are the same as those served at the former La Fiesta restaurant in Hillsdale Shopping Center.

Bertolucci's Hosts Names

Visited Lola and Larry at their South San Francisco Bertolucci's with plans to enjoy a ravioli dinner, as only Mem Bertolucci can prepare. To my surprise, Earice Romano, the "Baron" of Pacifica, and his family were enjoying a food spread to fit his royal title. Yes, sir, champagne was flowing the way it should. Next to Enrico treatment sat Sam Marconi, "Mr. Gold Street," and the Iron Horse co-owner. Needless to say, I enjoyed the ravioli, plus many additions I hadn't planned on.

MBT Tonia, Princeton Inn keeper, thinking that, New Year's Day would be quiet during the supper hour, big heartedly let some of his kitchen staff have the evening off. Result: A food stampede occurred and Mr. Tonia wound up washing dishes.

The usual talkative crew at Luz Garcia's Sinaloa is mighty quiet these evenings — they're still "winded" from blowing up 2000 balloons for the New Year's Eve celebration.

Weight watchers: Japanese food is the lowest in calorie of any national cuisine. The diet conscious luncheon or dinner customers at the Cho-Cho, in San Francisco, may enjoy sukiyaki, teriyaki or any of the delicious fish dishes without damage to waistlines.

Hillsdale Inn Newest Peninsula Show Place

Had the pleasure of touring the new and plush Hillsdale Inn, last week — my guide being Mr. Art Blum, the Inn's publicity director.

This two-story, 80-room Garden-Motel, decorated in a 16th Century English theme, is an attractive addition to the fast-growing Peninsula skyline. From the luxurious King Henry dining room and cocktail lounge, where gorgeous gals in Medieval Page Boy outfits serve you in the tradition of merrie olde England, to the miniature space needle called "The Kings Tower," your Hillsdale Inn visit will be a memorable one.

I enjoyed Mr. Blum's company and his explanation of each minute detail; also the tasty hors d'oeuvres and beverages which were served during my 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. visit.

If you are planning a banquet or would like to show out-of-town guests just how advanced the Peninsula is these days, the Hillsdale Inn rates right at the top of the list.

Restaurant Lew Lehr wasn't impressed when told that Arnold Palmer hits a golf ball so hard it takes the temper out of the steel and he has to buy a new set of clubs every two weeks. Lew commented: "Everytime I hit a ball I lose my temper."

Overheard in the Greenwillow Room of the Benjamin Franklin Hotel: "Oh, I've met loads of celebrities before, but you're the first celebrity I've ever met whom I've ever heard of before."

Rocca's on Golden Gate avenue, San Francisco, is one of the most popular spots for Judges and City Hall workers.

Three Industry Courses Readied By Mateo College

Three new courses in industrial management, taught by recognized experts in their respective fields, are announced by the Evening college of the College of San Mateo for the semester beginning on January 28. They are production control, principles of personnel administration and statistical quality control. All are scheduled for Monday evenings from 7 to 10 at Hillsdale High school.

Production Control will cover various aspects of management policy and sales forecasting, with particular emphasis on the problems involved in planning production and controlling manpower quotas, material quantities, machine loading and job order routing.

It will be taught by J. Lee Duffield, chief industrial engineer at Hiller Aircraft.

Principles of Personnel Administration is a course designed to develop understanding of the personnel function as it relates to industry, particularly in matters of selection, placement, wage and salary procedures, and training and evaluation. Taught by Merrill B. Shattuck, manager of placement and development at Eitel-McCullough, the course can also serve as an introductory survey for persons interested in going into the personnel field.

Statistical Quality Control will deal with, among other things, the analysis of variance, correlation, and contingency tables and their application to various industrial situations. Special tests of significant differences between means and variances are brought to bear on a number of quality problems. Either completion of the evening college course in Introduction to Statistical Methods or some knowledge of statistics is a prerequisite to enrollment in the course. The instructor will be Richard C. Antes, quality control analyst at Friden, Inc.

Each course carries three units of academic credit which may be applied toward an A. A. degree or toward satisfaction of the requirements of the Industrial Management Certificate program. Registration takes place with the instructor at the first meeting of each course, in these cases, Monday, January 28. The regular evening college registration fee applies.

Other courses in Industrial Management are listed in the evening college spring semester schedule, which is available at the main branch public libraries in the county or at the evening college office.

Vandals Rip D.C. Convertible

Joseph G. Wozniak, 47 Alpine drive, reported to Daly City police last Tuesday that vandals cut a hole in the top of his convertible while it was parked in front of his home. He estimated damage at $150.

Anniversary March for Your Dimes

A proclamation adopted by the San Mateo county board of supervisors naming January 1963 as "Twenty-fifth Anniversary March of Dimes Month" marks the official start of the silver anniversary campaign.

"Endorsement by the board of supervisors, we feel, was a fine gesture by these public officials toward our new health program in the March of Dimes," said James J. Kehoe, veteran volunteer chairman of the local county chapter of the National Foundation.

The March of Dimes began in 1938, founded by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, himself a polio victim.

Kehoe, postmaster of San Mateo, explained "now that polio is on the way out, the March of Dimes is seeking to do a similar job on crippling arthritis and bad birth defects."

"These cripples affect far more victims each year than polio ever did even in the worst epidemic years of the recent past," Chairman Kehoe said.

"With polio licked, thanks to the vaccines developed by Drs. Salk and Sabin and their research associates over the years from March of Dimes funds, we hope to do likewise on birth defects and rheumatoid arthritis before long."

Once the public knows of the March of Dimes new patient aid program on birth defects and arthritis, Kehoe emphasized, "we feel people again will make generous donations to this fine and continuing public health effort."

As in polio, March of Dimes funds will help pay bills for those hit by crippling birth defects or arthritis, Kehoe added, as well as "support intensive research through the new Salk Institute for Biological Studies being built now at La Jolla near San Diego in southern California, headed by Dr. Jonas Salk of polio vaccine fame."

The 1963 March of Dimes goes throughout January, as always, he said.

Francis to Continue Fight Against Reds

Assemblyman Louis Francis said, "Many people, in (R-San Mateo) Saturday expressed their appreciation to his constituents, friends and supporters, as he leaves the Capitol after his last act as a state legislator. After serving four terms in the State Legislature, Francis, whose home was reapportioned out of his district by the Democrat majority, did not seek re-election last November. He retired from office on Monday, January 7, and was succeeded by Democrat Leo J. Ryan of South San Francisco. While in the Legislature, Francis successfully authored many major laws. He led battles for stronger legislation to combat communism and subversion, drunk driving, pornography, and narcotics.

Miss Dickey Retires With No Ceremony

At noon last Monday County Tax Collector Lorraine Dickey rose from the seat at her desk and turned her office over to her chief assistant, Ross Conti. That was the extent of the ceremony attending Miss Dickey's requirement after more than 42 years of service to the county. "I don't like much fanfare," she explained. For the same reason, there was no testimonial dinner as is customary. Instead, Miss Dickey was honored at a quiet party at the home of an aide, attended only by employees of her office. Conti, who becomes her successor by virtue of his victory in last November's election, has been sworn into office by County Clerk John A. Bruning. The San Mateo County Bar association issued a statement Saturday commending Miss Dickey for her years of service to the county. Eugene Majeski, association president, said: "We could not let Miss Dickey retire from office without expressing our appreciation of her long service to the citizens of our county. No tax collector's office in the state has a better record for efficiency and progress—a tribute to Miss Dickey's administrative ability. "The attorneys of our county salute Miss Dickey and wish her happiness in her well-earned retirement."

Model RR Destroyed By Vandals

Vandals completely wrecked an expensive model train layout in the basement of the home of Mrs. Vera B. Wright, 1129 Bernal, Burlingame police reported today. Mrs. Wright, who was away from home between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., reported the intruders apparently gained entry through the garage, and then torn the track, bent it into various shapes, and smashed the buildings and signals, and other equipment.

Full Hearing on Sandoval Slated

Two psychiatrists reported county last month after he petitioned to be released from the Jaime Enrique Sandoval is still a hospital. He asked that he be sentenced on the criminal charges. Authorities at Atascadero said Sandoval was not cured but that nothing could be gained by continued treatment there. Judge Blum denied bail for the defendant and he is being held in county jail pending the hearing. Dr. Gerald W. Smith reported to the court: "In my opinion Sandoval is considered a grave menace to society and until a great deal of improvement is effected in his basic psychopathic personality he should not be permitted to be at liberty."

Big Move For S.S.F. Triplets

Mrs. Guenther Bauer says she still has trouble telling apart her triplet sons born a year ago New Year's day. But Mark, Mitchell and Michael are happy youngsters "and they've finally won me a bigger house." Her husband, service department manager for a Daly City automobile firm will move his family from their three-bedroom house at 218 Clifden drive in South San Francisco to a new four bedroom home in Westborough next month. Mrs. Bauer admits it was pretty exhausting looking after the triplets at first, "but now it's only an 18-hour day." There are three other Bauer children—Barbara, 10, Melchior, 8, and Laura, 5. The triplets are hard to tell apart. Explaining how she does it, Mrs. Bauer said, "Mitchell is the one that goes up and down and Michael goes from side to side, and Mark is the one that grunts." He was returned to San Mateo
